John Golden Dead -- U. S. Ship Hits Iceberg

NOTED LABOR LEADER DEAD

John F. Golden of Fall River Died at Brooklyn, N. Y., This Morning

Served as President of United Textile Workers of America for 19 Years

Was Well Known Here Where He Was Elected to Presidency in 1912

FALL RIVER, June 9.—Word was received here today of the death this morning in Brooklyn, N. Y., of John Golden, general president of the United Textile Workers of America. The remains are to be brought to this city for interment, the funeral to take place from his late home at 222 Cove street, at a date to be announced.

CRIMINAL NEGLIGENCE

Man Defaulted Here is Brought Back and Held in $2000 for Trial

Samuel W. ... of Second street, found guilty of criminal negligence in causing the death of Hugh McGrogan, and captured in Portland, Me., after he defaulted in the Lowell police court, appeared again before the local court this morning and was charged with manslaughter, operating a motor vehicle without the proper registration and operating without a license. He was held in bonds of $2000 for a continuance.

HAGEN ONLY YANKEE IN PRO GOLF TOURNEY

GLENEAGLES, June 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Walter Hagen of Detroit won his match in the first round of the thousand guineas professional golf tournament today, defeating Joseph Taylor, Great Britain, 4 and 2. Ted Ray of Oxford, the British crack, holder of the American open championship, eliminated Emmet French of Youngstown, Ohio, 2 and 1. Jack Hutchinson of Chicago was defeated by Abe Mitchell of Great Britain, 1 up. This left Hagen the only American in the tournament.

CATCHING CRIMINALS BY WIRELESS MAY BE NEXT GREAT INNOVATION

Lowell Radio Club Starts New Method of Checking Illegal Acts and Cooperates With Local Police Department

With the theft of automobiles, now of such startling frequency in this section, become but a dim memory within the near future? Will fleeing culprits, seeking to escape the law, be captured with ease, where now they must be laboriously trailed? These surprising developments appear in sight right here in Lowell! The local police department may soon have perfected a mysterious agent, swifter than the fastest racing car or the most swift flying plane, which will stamp out certain species of crime with amazing suddenness and render the fugitive from justice an arrested man, to all intents and purposes, from the moment of his wrongdoing.

The Lowell Radio club is the organization which has started the new method of checking illegal acts, and the club is already co-operating with the local authorities in finding far and wide the news of prison deliveries, the stealing of automobiles, and other acts in violation of the law, which involve the flight of the guilty parties from one city to another.

No matter how important or how slight the matter, the radio is a tireless messenger of justice. On the blotter at police headquarters this morning there lay a small yellow slip of paper, bearing these significant words: "T. N. B. Lowell Radio club, received at No. 1 L. L., 8 p. m. June 8, 1921. No. 1 Ford sedan, painted black, Massachusetts registration number, 24816."

This tiny slip of paper means simply that hardly had the loss of the car, the number of which is given, been reported to the Boston officials, when operators sent buzzing in the other, wireless messages to every city and town north, south, east and west to line today, that although his craft was leaking, the pumps were working well and he expected to reach St. John's, N. F., safely. The message said the leak was in No. 2 hold.

How Stove In—HALIFAX, N. S., June 9.—The American freight steamer Charlot, Philadelphia for London and Hamburg, via St. John's, N. F., struck an iceberg about 200 miles off the Newfoundland coast last night, according to a radio message received here today. Her bow was stove in. The steamship Columbia is proceeding to her assistance.

The Charlot, 3845 gross tons, is owned by the United States shipping board and operated by the Kerr Steamship line. She sailed from Philadelphia May 26 and put into St. John's for engine repairs. She carried a crew of 35 and a general cargo.

The identity of the steamer Columbia reported to have gone to her assistance, was uncertain here. A British passenger steamer of that name sailed from Glasgow June 4 for New York and an Italian steamer of the same name sailed from Trieste, May 21 for New York.

Medal for Highest Standing Goes to Young Man From the Orient

Addresses by Mayor Thompson and Prof. Sharp of Boston University

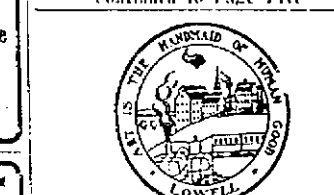

"I rode the other day in the automobile of one of the four wealthiest men in all the world; and the chauffeur was not getting enough money to send his little girls to high school. This man was not getting a decent chance, a fair American chance to educate his children!" This was the scathing arraignment of the leisure classes made by Dr. Dallas Love Sharp, eminent scholar and author, at the commencement exercises of the class of 1921, Lowell Textile school, held yesterday afternoon in Southwick hall, before a large audience and in the presence of Mayor Perry D. Thompson, representing the municipality, as guest of honor. Twenty-five young men received the congratulations of His Honor, and of President Charles H. Eames, S.B., of the institution, and were urged by Dr. Sharp to "go forth and find adventure in this world. Be dreamers; but make your dreams real."

Honor For Orient The medal offered by the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers to the student having the highest average throughout his course in studies connected with cotton manufacture, was awarded to Wen Chuan Chang of Nantung, China, who was also presented a diploma conferring the degree of bachelor of textile engineering. In his speech of presentation, President Eames said: "Since that

ISSUE MAY NOT REACH COUNCIL

Asserted That There is a Chance Street Initiative May Fail

Difficulties in the Way of Certifying Names and Addresses of Signers

Voting Lists Are Not Likely To Be Ready for Use for Some Time

There is a possibility that the members of the municipal council, ground between the upper and nether millstones of a widely signed petition of the chamber of commerce for contract street work and adverse protests and pressure from city employees and labor organizations, may be able to slip from their nerve-wearying position without the loss of political prestige. The city charter provides that the city clerk shall, with the assistance of the registrars of voters, examine the signatures on initiative petitions and certify to the council that they are those of legal voters and that their residences are correctly given as of the previous April 1. It is admitted that there are grave physical difficulties in the way of examining the names within ten days allowed by law. In the opinion of City Solicitor William D. ... and other attorneys familiar with municipal law, if the city clerk is unable to attach his "certificate of efficiency" within the prescribed ten days the petitions will automatically become non-effective and the work of preparing signatures would have to be done all over again to get the matter before the municipal council.

In City Clerk's Hands The initiative petitions will go into the hands of City Clerk Stephen Flynn not later than the first of next week, according to a statement today by Secretary-Manager George P. Wells, of the chamber of commerce. The petitions will contain upwards of 4000 signatures. Half of them may be thrown out as not complying with the law, and there will still be a sufficient number left to get the matter before the municipal council. "It is up to the city officials to take proper action in disposing of the petitions," said Mr. Wells, today. We are not worrying about what may happen after we turn

SLAYER OF TWO OFFICERS KILLED

Man Who Barricaded Himself in Toledo House Slain After 2-hour Battle

TOLEDO, June 9.—Thomas Kelley, 48, of Oklahoma, was killed by the police today after a battle which lasted two hours and in which machine guns and hand grenades were used to dislodge him from his barricaded room in the attic of his boarding house at 611 Walnut street. Before he was killed himself, Kelley shot and killed Patrolmen Harry Dowell and Harold Mossberger, who had been called to the house to subdue him after he had refused to pay a board bill and had flourished a revolver and threatened his landlady, Mrs. Nellie Key and her son, Allen.

ism commission and Milton J. Foreman of Chicago, national committee-man of the legion from Illinois, were injured when an automobile in which they were riding, went over an embankment here early today. The three men were returning to the city from the Country club in Mr. Ryan's car. The car failed to make a slight turn in the road and ran over the curbing across the sidewalk and turned over several times landing at the foot of a 20-foot embankment. All three men were thrown clear of the car as it went down. Mr. Galbraith suffered a fracture of the skull in the fall and died on the way to the hospital. The accident occurred about 1:30 o'clock this morning when the men were returning to Indianapolis from

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Dewey Somers Darling of South Ryegate, Vt., and Miss Helen Marguerite Badger of this city were married last evening at the home of the bride's father, Mr. William E. Badger, 105 Beacon street, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Wm. B. Tuttle, pastor of the Eliot Congregational church. Mrs. Warren W. Fox, a sister of the groom, was maid of honor, while the bridesmaids were Miss Louise Boardman and Miss Marie Richardson. The best man was Dr. George L. Darling, a brother of the groom. Upon their return from a honeymoon trip to the mountains and Lake George the couple will make their home at 105 Beacon street.

Guy—Leary

The marriage of Mr. John Joseph Guy of Gloucester, N. J., and Miss Elizabeth Gertrude Leary of this city took place yesterday at St. Michael's church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. J. Heagney. Miss Katherine L. Leary, a sister of the bride was bridesmaid, while the best man was Mr. Edward Guy, a brother of the groom. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Leary, 21 Nineteenth st. The couple will make their home in Gloucester, N. J.

Porter—Loneragan

Mr. William E. Porter and Miss Emma Loneragan, both of this city were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at St. Patrick's rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Francis Keenan. The bride wore a white Duchess satin gown trimmed with lilies of the valley and pearls; she also wore a veil entrained, caught up with lilies of the valley, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Ethel Loneragan, a sister of the bride, wore pink organdie with picture hat to match and carried pink sweet peas. The best man was Mr. Ralph Porter, a brother of the groom. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a cameo ring, while the groom's favor to the best man was a pair of gold cuff links. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, followed by a wedding supper. The home was handsomely decorated with cut flowers, foliage and ferns. After an extended wedding trip to New York the happy couple will make their home at 407 High street. Attending the festivities were guests from New Haven, Northboro, Framingham and Boston.

Gavagan—Murphy

Mr. Frank J. Gavagan of Canton, Mass., and Miss Catharine G. Murphy, a well known young woman of this city were married late yesterday afternoon, the ceremony being performed at 5 o'clock at St. Patrick's rectory by Rev. Francis Keenan. The bride was becomingly attired in white bridal satin with veil of Belgian lace, caught up with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet. She was attended by her sister, Miss Grace M. Murphy, who wore rose organdie with white overdress and carried pink sweet peas. The best man was Mr. Leo J. Gavagan, a brother of the groom. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Alice M. Murphy, 52 Arlington street, which was prettily decorated with wild flowers and marguerites. In the course of the reception a wedding supper was served under a large tent on the beautiful lawn of the home and in attendance at the festivities were guests from Canton, Forest Hills, Arlington and Brighton. Late in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Gavagan, who were made the recipients of a profusion of handsome gifts, left on a honeymoon trip to New York and Atlantic City and after Sept. 1 they will be at home to their friends at 55 Conwell avenue, West Somerville. The groom is connected with Patterson, Wyde & Windler, prominent insurance brokers of Boston, while the bride was a popular local school teacher.

Roberge—Mallett

Tuesday morning at a nuptial mass celebrated in the Catholic church of Greendale, Mr. Marcel Roberge of this city and Miss Vivian Mallett of Worcester were united in the bonds of matrimony, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Louis Gauthier of Millbury, a former classmate of the groom. At the close of the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride and in attendance from Lowell were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Z. Chenette and their son, Mrs. Roberge, Mr. Victor Rochette, Mr. Joseph Schiller and Mr. Dewey G. Archambault, all of this city. After an extended honeymoon trip to Baltimore and Washington the couple will make their home at 85 Forrest street, this city.

Owens—Martin

Mr. John J. Owens and Miss Margaret G. Martin were married Monday morning at a nuptial mass celebrated at the Sacred Heart church, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Fr. McDermott, O.M.I. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Martin, while the best man was Mr. James Owens, a cousin of the groom. At the close of the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride, 14 Saratoga street and at noon the happy couple, who were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts, left on a honeymoon trip and upon their return they will make their home in this city.

Rogers—Farrell

The marriage of Mr. Francis Paul Rogers and Miss Elizabeth M. Farrell, two well known young people of this city, took place late yesterday afternoon, the ceremony being performed at 5 o'clock at the Sacred Heart rectory by the pastor, Rev. John P. Flynn, O. M.I. The bride was attired in blue Canton crepe with hat to match and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid was Miss Anna P. Farrell, who wore plumed grey Canton crepe with hat to match and carried sweet peas. The best man was Mr. Michael J. Rogers. After an extended honeymoon trip the couple will make their home at 35 Mead st.

Many New Features Added This Year to the High School Magazine—Congratulations for Students

This year's High School Review staff has turned out one of the most readable magazines that the school has had in many years and the students are being congratulated on the success of their endeavors.

Under the direction of Richard Chase, editor-in-chief, many new features have been added to the monthly school magazine this year and the students have more than responded with their support.

A number of recess dances to help out the finances of the publication have been staged during the year and have been very gratifyingly patronized by the student body. The high cost of paper and increases in other expenses entering into the publication of the Review have necessitated some additional means for securing financial support besides that received from advertising and subscription.

Plot for Revolution in Sweden

STOCKHOLM, June 9.—What the newspapers here today considered as a sensational and widespread plot for a bolshevik revolution in Sweden, was uncovered as a result of the arrest of a widely known bolshevik leader in Kiruna, in the iron mining district. It was said that a communist organization was discovered. Several arrests have been made in Stockholm.

WILLIAM J. JOHNSON

Lowell Young Man Receives B. A. Degree at George Washington University

William Joseph Johnson, of 55 Oakland street, Lowell, received the bachelor of arts degree yesterday at the 100th commencement of George Washington university, Washington, D. C.

The commencement address was delivered by Honorable Frank W. Mondell, republican floor leader of the house of representatives, William Miller Collier, former ambassador to Spain, president of the university also addressed the graduates. Honorary degrees were conferred on a number of persons prominent in national affairs. George Washington university, founded in 1821, celebrated its 100th anniversary this year with a graduating class of 305 students. The university is one of the seven or eight institutions of higher learning located in the nation's capital.

Mr. Johnson, son of Mrs. Katherine T. and the late Dr. Stephen J. Johnson, was a Carney medal scholar at the Lowell high school in 1917. His first year after leaving high school was spent at Georgetown university in Washington, the following year he was a student at Harvard university, and the last two years he attended George Washington university. He maintained a scholarship of unusual excellence at all institutions. Mr. Johnson will study medicine this fall, and his friends entertain high hopes for his future in the medical profession.

Mr. Johnson will spend part of the summer at his home in Lowell, and expects to undertake further study at the Harvard university summer school.

HELD ANNUAL OUTING AT WILLOW DALE

It was a merry crowd that left St. Patrick's boys' school in Suffolk street this morning, when the 22 young men who will graduate at the school this month, boarded automobiles for Willow Dale where the annual outing of the graduating class was held. Nothing was spared to make the event one of the most elaborate and pleasing, and Rev. Brother Eugene, who was in charge of arrangements, was well repaid for his efforts, for the affair was very successful in every respect.

The boys, "equipped" with baseball and other paraphernalia left the school shortly after 8 o'clock and sped over the road to Willow Dale, where the summer homes of the Idle Hour club and the Temple club had been located at their disposal for the day. Outdoor events were enjoyed and the winners of the various contests were awarded suitable prizes.

A substantial dinner was served on the green where those participating were refreshed by the cool breeze from the lake. It was an ideal day for an outing and before leaving the resort for the homeward trip the boys gave three loud cheers for Brother Eugene and the members of the Idle Hour and Temple clubs.

Foreman and Ryan Hurt

The Country club, a short distance from the city.

Mr. Ryan, who was driving the car, said he went over the embankment, when he lost control of the car while making a sharp turn. All three men were thrown head foremost among a pile of stones.

Commander Galbraith was to have left for Chicago early this morning on the first stop of a speaking tour in the interests of legislation before congress sponsored by the legion. He and Mr. Foreman, national committeeman from Illinois, had been here attending a meeting of the national finance committee of the organization.

Mr. Galbraith's body was taken to the city morgue, where it will remain until removed to his home in Cincinnati.

Col. Galbraith was about 50 years old. He leaves a widow and two children, a boy about to enter college and a girl of 10 years. He was a prominent Rotarian.

Known as "Sailor Ryan" BOSTON, June 9.—Henry J. Ryan, Col. F. W. Galbraith, Jr. was elected national director of the American Legion.

ed national commander of the American Legion, on Sept. 23 last. During the war he served in command of the First Ohio National Guard at Camp Sheridan, Chillicothe. Subsequently he was transferred to the 14th Infantry and embarked for overseas in June, 1918. By leading his regiment through the lines of the Germans under fire he won the title of "The fighting colonel of the Fighting First."

As head of the American Legion he has been active in behalf of the organization in urging legislation favorable to ex-service men. His public addresses have been marked with forceful utterances against alleged mistreatment of wounded soldiers, and in defense of the legion's plan for their relief.

In civilian life Col. Galbraith was president of the Western Paper Goods Co., of Cincinnati. He was a republican, but never actively engaged in politics and was never a candidate for public office. In Cincinnati, however, he was active in civic movements for more than 20 years.

As a youth the legion head was a sailor. He once passed the entrance examination to Annapolis, but never matriculated.

ing ability caused him to be assigned to recruiting tours. After serving as state chairman of the legion's Americanism commission, he was advanced to national director following the resignation of Col. Arthur Woods of New York, former assistant secretary of war.

BET ON COCKROACH RACES IN TURKEY

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 9.—Betting on cockroach races is one of the newest sports here. It was introduced by a Russian who has just opened a hall where a man who wants some real excitement for his money can get results.

The hall is darkened at the moment the race is to begin. Then a single electric light at the end of a runway is turned on, and the cockroaches, each in a separate track, are let loose from their cages to race for the light.

More real, old-fashioned, non-professional sport may be had here than in any other city of Europe. This is due in part to the allied troops of occupation, to the American officers and sailors on station here, and the large number of American and British civilians who have come out for business since the armistice.

What the Russian refugees have done in the way of enlivening the city with concerts, dancing places and queer restaurants, the other allies have done in sporting lines.

In winter there is wild bear, duck and fox hunting. There is also, in and out of season, plenty of horseback riding over the dirt roads and unfenced stretches of upland country on both sides of the Bosphorus. Horse races are often held.

Both the British and the Americans have laid out golf courses. There are also a few tennis courts.

The troops and sailors within the city have taken charge of a large field near Taxim, in the center of Pera, and there play football and baseball matches. Yachting and swimming are commonplace sports open to all.

The Russians from the Black sea have increased the popularity of the beaches, especially a fine strip of sand on the Marmora north shore known as Florida. There, without let or hindrance, men, women and children, undress on the open beach and bathe in costumes that seem quite conventional here.

The Turks have contributed chicken fights to the international sports.

TAXICABS INVADE ROME

ROME, June 9.—Taxicabs have just invaded Rome. New, brightly painted vehicles similar to those of New York have just made their appearance, replacing as many horse-drawn cabs, which have held sway in the capital of the Caesars for centuries.

The taxicab, though welcomed with open arms by the general mass of Romans, has met for years a stone-wall opposition for the right to circulate in Roman streets. The 5000 cab drivers and livery men fought its use and warned the city administration they would be defeated at election if the taxicabs were admitted.

This opposition has in a measure been overcome but there still remains some cab drivers' prejudice against motor vehicles in their business. They have insisted that the chauffeurs be mainly recruited from the cab drivers.

No Trace Of The Disease Since Taking "Fruit-a-tives"

DOVER, NEW HAMPSHIRE.
"In 1906, I began to be troubled with Eczema. My arms and legs were bandaged most of the time; and sometimes I could squeeze the pus out of my hands, they were so bad. About 3 months ago, I chanced to read an ad. of 'Fruit-a-tives' and 'Sootha-Salva', in which was told of a person cured of Weeping Eczema by these remedies.

After using two boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives' and one box of 'Sootha-Salva', I am entirely free of Eczema."

FOR TRAVELING

As July approaches, of course her thoughts turn to that vacation by motor, or if not by motor, one in which there will at least be many motor rides, and she needs must have a wrap which turns the dust. With this in mind, Irene Rich, Goldwyn actress, achieves travel smartness in this rubberized linen motor coat, handstitched in cream colored wool.

PERSPIRING HANDS

Perspiring hands are the cause of much annoyance to the home as well as the business woman. They are expensive, too, for they ruin more gloves than the average woman can afford to buy in a year.

A simple means of overcoming the excess perspiration, unless the cause is some deep-seated physical disorder, is the hot bath. Dip the palms of your hands into very hot water and after drying them rub them with a little boracic acid powder.

Alternate baths of hot and cold are also good. Put the palms in water as hot as can well be stood. Let them remain five minutes and then give them the cold bath.

A good lotion for perspiring hands can be made at home by combining a quart of water with 1/4 pint of wheat bran, 1 1/2 ounces of Epsom salts and two ounces of bay rum. The bay rum should be added after the other ingredients have been mixed and stood over night.

CARPET CLEANING

If the carpet must be cleaned at home, first beat it thoroughly and if you have a vacuum cleaner go over it with that. Then make a wad of cotton about the size of an apple. Cover it with linen and go over the carpet with this dipped in a 5 per cent benzine soap solution. If the colors are dulled sponge it in a weak acetic acid solution.

Kidney and Bladder Troubles HAVE TO GO

Clogged Up Kidney Deposits are Dissolved and the Toxins (Poisons) Completely Driven Out. Druggists Told to Guarantee it in Every Instance.

"Your very life," says Dr. Carey, "depends upon the perfect functioning and health of your kidneys, so whatever you do don't neglect them." Dr. Carey's famous prescription No. 177, known as Marshroot, is not recommended for everything, but we cannot too strongly urge its use if you suffer from annoying bladder troubles, frequent passing of water night and day, with smarting or irritation, brick dust sediment or highly colored urine, burning, irritability with loss of flesh, backache, rheumatism or any other tendency to Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Gravel, for kidney disease in its worst form may be sealing upon you. Don't wait until tomorrow to begin the use of this wonderful prescription if you have any of the above symptoms. Kidney and Bladder troubles don't wear away. They will grow upon you slowly, stealthily and with untold certainty.

Never mind the failures of the past. If you even suspect that you are suffering from Kidney Disease, don't lose a single day. For Dr. Howard, 137 Central Street, Dorchester drug store and every good druggist has been authorized to return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they have received no benefit.—Adv.

COMMERCIAL COLLEGES HOLD OUTING

The annual joint outing of the Lowell Lawrence and Haverhill Commercial colleges was held today at Canobie Lake park. About 150 students of the Lowell college attended the outing. Most of them left Merrimack square on the 6 o'clock electric, while others went over the road in automobiles. The three groups of students met at the park and after exchanging greetings, got busy with the sporting program, a feature of which was a baseball game between teams picked up from the three schools.

While the baseball contest was going on there was a swimming race for girls, followed by a ball throwing contest for girls and a bowling match between the members of the fair sex of this city and those of Haverhill. For the boys there was a 100-yard dash as well as numerous other events and at the close of the program suitable prizes were awarded the winners. At noon a basket dinner was enjoyed and the afternoon was devoted to games and sightseeing trips. The committee in charge of the Lowell end of the program was composed of the following: Ted Iobeger, Harry Sullivan, Frances Ward and Violet Holsten. Earle R. Kimball, president of the Lowell college, had general supervision of the Lowell end of the outing.

Issue May Not Reach Council

the results of our work into the hands of the city clerk.

City Clerk Flynn stated this morning that he would consider it his duty to have supervision of the certifying of the signatures on the initiative petition despite a decision of law that it has been claimed exists as a result of the passage of the act establishing the election commission. Mr. Flynn will consider that it is the duty of the commissioners to assist him in examining the signatures in place of the discontinued board of registrars of voters. He stated that he is not sure that it was found impossible to certify the names within ten days, as required by the charter, he would seek legal advice as to his future course of action.

To Face Grave Difficulties

It is admitted that the board of election commissioners will face some grave difficulties when called upon to examine the signatures. The list of voters for the year 1921, giving the residences on the first of last April, has not yet been printed or even prepared. The problem for the election commissioners to solve is this: They must, within ten days, give names from the chamber of commerce petitions and see that the signatures are those of registered voters; that they are correctly signed and that the addresses are given as of the first day of last April. About the only information that is available from the office of the commissioners is that they will try to do the job somehow if it comes to them.

How they are to do it is what puzzles. The voting lists, it is expected, will not be completed before Sept. 1. The usual method of procedure in making up the lists is for the board of assessors to turn the names of all persons in the city over 21 years of age—this year including women—with the street addresses, as gathered by the assistant assessors, over to a printer. This year it is believed there may be as many as 60,000 names on these lists. After the printer has put the names in type, proofs are read in the office of the assessors and returned to the printing office. The manuscript copy of the lists is then transmitted to the election commissioners who are compelled to examine each name and determine whether it is that of a registered voter. From the results of this work the voting lists are made up.

In Hands of Printer

At the present time about half of the assessors' lists are in the hands of the printer and a portion of the lists have been examined by the election commissioners and the names of legal voters thereon compared and placed on the voting list.

Whether the approximately 30,000 names in the hands of the printer can be promptly recalled for use by the election commissioners it was stated at the assessors' office today is uncertain.

Altogether the problem which faces the city officials is one of the most complicated which has turned up in a long time.

If the city clerk is unable to attach his "certificate of sufficiency" within the time required by law, the opinion is expressed that not only will the whole matter lapse, but that the petitions will have become a part of the public records and it will be impossible for the chamber of commerce to withdraw them for use a second time.

An Easy Way for Thin People to Put on Flesh and Gain Weight

Strong, Straightforward Advice to Thin, Underdeveloped Men and Women

If you are thin, scrawny and underdeveloped, if your face is peaked and your cheeks and neck exhibit slight, slightly hollow, it is almost certain that your nervous system is at the bottom of the trouble. You can eat three, yes, four, substantial fat producing meals a day but as long as your stomach has an insufficient supply of nerve force this food you eat will pass out of the body with little if any benefit. In order to assimilate properly the nourishing food you eat and convert it into healthy tissue and fat the nerves that control the digestive tract must be put in first-class shape and until that is done you might just as well try to put something that will turn the food you eat into healthy stay-there flesh and it can only be done in one way—by correcting faulty nerve direction.

However, with impoverished blood and half starved looks are failing with delicate quickness and certain number of solid fresh cod liver EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES that is unequalled for repairing faulty digestion and correcting your digestive troubles. In fact the makers of Evans' Triple Phosphates guarantee that one month's treatment will increase your weight by several pounds and within two months you will feel like a new being, full of ambition, vigor and a desire to accomplish things. Fred Howard and leading druggists everywhere have accepted Evans' Triple Phosphates and guarantee it to do just what is claimed for it or money refunded.

Caution: Evans' Triple Phosphates accomplishes wonders in nervous digestive troubles and as a general nerve tonic, it should not be taken by anyone who objects to a few additional pounds of solid, stay-there flesh.—Adv.

LOWELL YOUNG LADY RECEIVED WONDERFUL RESULTS FROM CINOT, IT CLEARED HER COMPLEXION

Miss Loretta Baubien of 499 Moody St., Lowell, Used CINOT for Her Skin Troubles and Says It Cleared Up Her Complexion Like Magic

"I just hated to go any place on account of pimples that I had on my face," said Miss Baubien.

"I tried every way to get rid of these blotches but nothing would help me. One afternoon while talking to a lady I knew, I told her how I felt and she said I ought to try CINOT, and am glad I did as it cleared my complexion up."

"It is a wonderful blood tonic and I feel better in every way and can positively state that if anyone wants a remedy that will clear up the complexion and make the skin soft they ought to try CINOT. It is wonderful."

CINOT is being demonstrated in Lowell by an expert at Dows' drug store, Merrimack square, and can be obtained at all other first-class druggists everywhere.—Adv.

POLICE SERGEANTS TAKE EXAMINATION

Five sergeants of the Lowell police department took an examination in the old councilmanic chamber in city hall this morning for the position of lieutenant under the direction of the civil service commission. Those who took the test were Sergts. Peter McManis, George Palmer, Patrick Frayley, Philip Dwyer and Samuel Bigelow.

This afternoon an examination was to be held for the lieutenant position in the department aspiring to the position of captain, made vacant by the death of Capt. James Brosnan. Inasmuch as the civil service authorities received only two applications for the examination, it was cancelled. On Wednesday, June 29, an examination for the position of captain will be held and will be open to all lieutenants and sergeants of the department.

Next Saturday morning, patrolmen of the department who aspire to become sergeants will be examined in the councilmanic chamber.

SOMEBODY LOST COAT IN HAVERHILL

City Marshal Alden M. Worcester of the Haverhill police department, in a communication to Superintendent Redmond Welch of the local force, reports the finding by one of his officers, of a suit coat marked with the label of Cherry & Webb. The garment is described as a ladies' own suit, coat, with brown satin lining. An Eastern Massachusetts street railway car ticket was found in the pocket. The owner may have these articles, states City Marshal Worcester, by proving the property to be his or hers.

MISS NORTHAM HONORED

Miss Clara Northam, a popular member of the Past Presidents' association of the city, died at her home, 12 North Main street, last night, when she was tendered a miscellaneous shower by the members of the association. The affair took place after the regular business meeting of the society at the home of Past President Edith Mears in Tabbot ave. North Billerica, the festivities being conducted in the dining room, which was handsomely decorated with pink and white. The young woman was showered with numerous appropriate gifts and the remainder of the evening was taken up with the serving of luncheon and an entertainment program. The party broke up at a reasonable hour after the guests had extended their best wishes to Miss Northam and their thanks to their hostess for her cordial hospitality.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL OUTING

The annual field day and outing of the Boys' Vocational school will be held tomorrow, at the Genna club grounds in Tyngsboro. The boys and faculty of the school will leave at 8:15 and will make the journey to the grounds in trucks. An extensive program of sports will be carried out upon arrival at the grounds, and at noon luncheon will be served.

INGROWN TOE NAIL TURNS OUT ITSELF

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outigo" upon the skin surrounding the ingrown nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it cannot penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight.

"Outigo" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.—Adv.

HAD FUN GALORE

Lowell Rotary Club Outing Was Big Success

There was fun galore and a lot of good sport at the annual outing of the Lowell Rotary club held yesterday afternoon at the Vesper Country club in Tyngsboro. The Rotarians produced enough athletes to man an Olympic team and every event of the afternoon's program was strenuously contested.

Arthur P. Woodies, Mayor Thompson's private secretary, pulled off a Francis Quimet stunt by capturing the first place in the golf tournament, the first event of the afternoon. Mr. Woodies defeated a large field.

At 4:30, Maj. Walter R. Jones surrounded himself with a coterie of husky and plump athletes and began sending them through the paces of an amusing program. The first event, the potato race, was won handsily by Louis P. Studley, manager of the J. L.

ROBERT W. THOMSON
President

Chaffoux Co. Harry Pitts, the automobile man, took first honors in the sack race, although many on the on-lookers alleged that it was "in the bag". The pillow fight was one of the best fun producers of the afternoon and after defeating all comers, Marcus J. Cole admitted he was entitled to first money.

Charles White won the piggy race and Robert W. Thomson, president of the club, took first honors in the fat men's race. Charles White and Arthur Spaulding formed a good enough three-legged team to win the prize in this event.

At 6:30 dinner was served in the club house and the prizes were awarded the winners of the afternoon's events. All in all, it was a most successful affair and the Rotarians are looking forward to another similar event.

TWO DEFENDANTS HAVE COURT RECORDS

William McCarthy and George L. McDonald, charged with attempted breaking and entering of two Middlesex street stores, and held by the police for a hearing at the police court here, both have records, it was discovered today, when the state fingerprint experts submitted a report of their findings on the two men.

McCarthy, who is known also as James O'Brien, was sentenced from the Suffolk superior court to the Massachusetts reformatory for five years on breaking and entering charges, April 15, 1918. He was released April 27, 1920. As James O'Brien he was again dispatched to the reformatory, this time from the Norfolk court, on charges of attempted breaking and entry of a store. He "did" from December 13, 1919, to July 16, 1920, when he was released on parole. November 6, 1919, he again was returned to confinement, having violated the terms of his release. He finally gained his freedom on this charge December 24, 1919. He also did twelve months at Deer Island, under the name of James O'Brien, for breaking and entering.

McDonald's record includes only a single offense. He was sentenced for larceny at Boston on one occasion, but aside from this his record is clear as far as the state authorities know.

Neither William P. Hansworth nor Edward F. Waters, implicated in the local affair and held for a hearing here, are known to the commonwealth's experts, and have no criminal record on file at the state house.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

James Cahill, aged 14 years and residing at 137 Fayette street, was struck by an automobile operated by John G. Denchue of 825 Dover street late yesterday afternoon. The accident occurred at a spot in front of the immaculate Conception church in East Merrimack street, where, so the driver of the car claims, the boy ran

The president, in giving out the diplomas, first recalled the death of "Theodore Hoytson, who through a fatal accident of only a few days ago, was taken from our midst. His parents mourn his loss as do we. You who went to his home for the obsequies realize the sorrow of his invalid mother, crushed with grief. The degree of bachelor of textile chemistry will be placed in the hands of his sorrowing parents, and perhaps it will lighten in some small measure their grief to receive from the school the diploma which would have undoubtedly been gained by their son if he had lived."

A novel feature of the exercises was the conferring on J. Milton Washburn, president of the senior class, of his degree by his uncle, Royal White, President James. In announcing this, said: "The Lowell Textile school is twenty-four years old, but although we have had many brothers going through the course simultaneously, and in one instance had four brothers, all graduates from the institution, we have not yet had two generations, having father and son, matriculate. ## MAIL BOXES GET COAT OF PAINT

The mail boxes of this city, about 350 in numbers, are being given a fresh coat of paint, the first "dressing up" they have had since the beginning of the war. The work is being done by the Lowell Wall Paper Co., which was given the contract after submitting the lowest bids and it may be a couple of months before the job is finished. As soon as the outside boxes have been thoroughly painted a number of extra boxes, which are now stored at the postoffice, will be given the once-over and then they will be put in use in districts where they are needed.

Owing to the increase in parcel post business in the down-town district, two extra machines have been pressed into service. Postmaster McManis stated today that the parcel sections of the city is perfect as far as he can ascertain, but he believes that two additional machines will reduce the burden of work to a great extent and eventually will bring about an increase in business.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS. LOUPRET

Mrs. Charles A. Loupret, nee Odile Monbleau, aged 59 years, was found dead in bed at her home, 243 Moore street, early this morning. Mrs. Loupret had been ill for some time, but her condition was not considered serious. She was last seen by members of the family late last evening when she seemed to be resting comfortably, but early this morning her husband was awakened by moans and after turning on the light found that

What Angry Waters Did to Business District

Here is a glimpse of what the flood did to the business district of Pueblo, Col. This photograph taken in the heart of the business section, during the flood, shows buildings wrecked, water sweeping through the streets and large piles of wreckage. In most streets the water reached a depth of 7 feet and in some of the lower streets was 18 feet deep. The arrow shows the high water mark.

DEPARTING CIRCUS LEFT PLEASANT MEMORIES

At an early hour this morning long trains bore the Sells Floto circus out of Lowell. Later as the sun shone over the fair grounds small boys gathered to look upon the scene of the departed glories of yesterday and searched in accordance with time-honored custom, for any stray coins which might have been dropped on the ground by the hurrying crowds which visited the show.

If the Sells Floto show was not the best of its kind that has visited this city, it was one of the best. It had all of the familiar features of the old-time circus in abundance, and many of the acts had been dressed up to have something of the appearance of newness.

The menagerie, if not so large as some, was interesting and the animals appeared to be more than usually well-fed and sleek. In the menagerie tent, previous to the evening entertainment, the elephants were put through a course of stunts that attracted much attention. Never has such a collection of simians been seen in this section of the country as capered about in the big monkey cage.

Under the big top was the opening spectacle with its magic and riot of rich and changing colors, trapeze performing, bareback riding, tumbling, wire dancing, living statuary and a whole army of clowns.

At several years past the Hanford family, with "Poodles" in the lead, furnished the star ring act, and at the evening performance were greeted with round after round of appreciative applause.

CARTRIDGE SHOP WILL CLOSE FOR TWO WEEKS

With the exception of the box shop all the departments of the United States Cartridge Co. will close from July 2 to 15, notices to that effect having been posted in the plant yesterday. The reason for the shut-down is the annual inventory.

Notices were also posted in all departments of the Lawrence Mfg. Co. yesterday to the effect that, beginning this week and until further notice the entire mill will shut down Friday evenings. For some time past this mill has been operating three, four and five days a week, while some departments have been operating full time.

ATTEMPT TO PLAY JOKE ON HOSPITAL

If not the meanest man alive, one of his nearest relatives has been discovered. He attempted last night to play a joke on St. John's hospital and caused the hospital people much needless work and worry.

About 10:15 p. m. the hospital telephone bell rang and on the other end of the wire was someone who represented himself to be the manager of the Sells-Floto circus. It was stated that an assistant paymaster of the show had met with an accident on the

COASTER RIDE AT MERRIMACK PARK

"Forest Dips" is the name of the big roller coaster now in operation at Merrimack park and this wonderful riding device is said to be far superior to anything ever attempted or perfected in roller coaster rides in the country. It is the very latest type of model of coaster and has many new features and thrills which in addition to its great height and the actual distance traveled, which is said to be three thousand seven hundred and ten feet from the starting point back to the unloading station, almost three-quarters of a mile riding distance, makes this ride not only the longest, but also the finest in New England today, and is the last word in safety, everything possible for the comfort of the public has been attended to and not the slightest detail has been overlooked in the construction of this great coaster. The park management announce many new and novel features being arranged for the great crowds that are being attracted to this new recreational centre. The Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. are building an extension track running parallel in the park for the convenience of park patrons and they will also put on special cars and ample service to take care of the many people who desire to visit this park and have also placed on sale a special round trip ticket for 25 cents from Lowell to the gates of the park. These tickets are now selling at Green's drug store, the Crown confectionery and at the Hay State shoe saluting parties.

formed by members of the Lowell Teachers' organization at its regular meeting in high school hall late yesterday afternoon. The council was organized as follows:
High school—Men: Morton Sturtevant; women: Miss Genevieve Lawrence, Miss Mabel Casady.
Vocational school—James Gearon.
Continuation school—Thomas Ginty.
Kindergartens—Miss Helen Noyes.
Masters and principals—Henry H. Harris.
Trinity—Miss Ellen Stillings, Miss Fannie Murphy, Miss Emma Graham.
Miss Carrie Bailey.
Grammar—Miss Charlotte Walsh.

Miss Caroline Downey, Miss Kathleen Driscoll, Miss Rose Geary, Miss Minnie Gray, Miss Mary Lane.
Miss Caroline A. Downey presided at the meeting. It was voted to dedicate a page in the records to the memory of the late Laura H. Palmer, for many years a teacher in the Kirk and West Sixth street schools. There were also many expressions of regret over the death of Michael J. Lynch and John J. Walker. The elementary school teachers were asked to be at St. Peter's church Friday morning at 9.45 to attend Mr. Walker's funeral mass.
The annual reports of the president, secretary and treasurer were read and approved. It was voted to amend the constitution to provide for an enlargement of the personnel of the visiting committee.

It was announced that senate bill No. 203, giving teachers who retired before June, 1920, the same minimum allowance as those who have retired since that time, had been signed and would become law Aug. 28.

MAYOR'S POWER CONSIDERED IN ITS VARIOUS FORMS

His Functions Purely Executed and Not Autocratic---The Veto Power---Appointments and Removals---The Budget and Making of Contracts

The powers to be vested in the mayor under the new charter have been the subject of much discussion. In the following article from the charter commission, these powers are fully explained and shown to be reasonable and in general well guarded against any line of action that might be considered arbitrary.

Duties and Powers of the Mayor

Section 4---Provides that all executive power now vested in the city council shall hereafter be vested in and exercised by the mayor. The mayor may suspend or remove from office the administrative heads of departments subject to the provisions of section 26, which means that such suspensions or removals are subject to review by the city council, which may annul the action of the mayor, or reinstate officials suspended or removed. Temporary appointments may be made by the mayor to offices made vacant by resignation, death, suspension or removal without being subject to confirmation by the city council. Such temporary appointments, however, shall be in effect only for the period of time allowed for the filing of notice of demand for and during a public hearing before the city council, and pending a decision thereon, or in other cases, pending confirmation by the city council of a permanent appointment.

All nominations made by the mayor and subject to confirmation by the city council shall be acted upon by the council within a period of thirty days. If no action is taken by the city council within thirty days, the mayor shall withdraw said nomination and file another nomination, either of the person first nominated or a different person. It is provided, however, that the mayor shall not nominate any person more than twice in the same year for the same office.

The Veto Power

The mayor is vested with a veto power on all orders, resolutions or votes passed by the city council, except the budget submitted by the mayor, upon questions of confirmation of nominations, and votes directing heads of departments to appear before the city council. He has ten days to consider any vote, order or resolution presented to him. If he approves, he shall sign; if he disapproves, he may return said order or resolution to the city council with his objections thereon in writing; but if he fails to return the order or resolution to the city council within ten days with his written objections, it shall be deemed approved and in force without further action. If the city council, notwithstanding the written disapproval by the mayor, shall again pass the order or resolution by a two-thirds vote, it shall be in force, but the vote thereon must be taken within thirty days. Failure to act within thirty days upon any order or resolution returned by the mayor with his objections thereto, shall make valid the objections of the mayor, and said order or resolution shall not be in force. No increase in salary or wages of any subordinate official or employee shall take effect unless approved by the mayor.

The Budget

Not later than sixty days after the beginning of the municipal year, the mayor shall transmit to the city council a budget of expenditures required for the year. The city council shall consider the recommendations as submitted in the budget, and make therefrom the annual appropriations for departments, and may reduce or reject any item, but without the approval of the mayor shall not increase any item in or the total of the budget, nor add any item thereto. The mayor shall cause a complete audit and examination of books and accounts of the city to be made annually.

Vacancy in Mayor's Office

If a vacancy occurs in the office of mayor, prior to the last six months of his term, the city council shall order a special election to fill the unexpired term. If a vacancy occurs in the office of mayor, during the last six months of his term, the president of the council shall succeed thereto for the remainder of the term. If the mayor is absent or temporarily unable for any cause to perform his duties, they shall be performed by the president of the council, who shall for the time being be designated "acting mayor." He shall possess the power of mayor only in matter not admitting of delay, and shall have no power to make permanent appointments. If the head of a department is temporarily unable for any cause to perform his duties, the mayor may designate without confirmation by the city council a temporary appointee.

From the wording of the above section it will be seen that the mayor shall exercise purely executive power. He may suspend or remove heads of departments, subject to review by the city council. He may make temporary appointments only without confirmation by the city council. He will possess a veto power, which is very desirable for a proper functioning of government. All increases in salaries or wages of subordinate officers and employees must be approved by the mayor. This is a wise provision, as it checks unlimited raising of salaries and wages by department heads. One of the best provisions of the charter is that the mayor shall submit the annual budget. In other words, he shall determine the maximum amount that departments shall receive for the year. This budget cannot be revised upward by the city council, but may be reduced by separate items or in total. Such reduction will guard against extravagance in the making of appropriations. A reasonable analysis of this section will show that the mayor is far from the autocrat those opposed in the new charter would have us believe. His authority and power are simply executive, and if he fails to measure up to the requirements of the office, there is plenty of power vested in the city council to check his official conduct in many ways.

Contracts for Labor and Material

Section 46---Provides that all contracts for more than five hundred dollars involving material or labor, shall be awarded after competitive and public advertisement to the lowest responsible bidder. All contracts shall be signed for the city by the administrative head of the department making the contract and by the mayor.

This very important section will be violated far less than is now done under our present charter with the new auditing commission on the job. They will know if bids presented to them for approval should have been incurred under contract or not, and may withhold approval. If it is apparent that the provisions of this section have been violated.

The next article will include the section relative to the conduct and management of schools.

DRAWING FOR CARNIVAL PRIZES

The drawing for the prizes offered with the recent carnival conducted by Billieria post, 116, American Legion, took place at a recent joint meeting of the post and the Ladies' auxiliary and the winners are as follows: Five-dollar gold piece, men's table, won by Russell Cassey, Lowell; lunch, North Billerica; embroidered pillow, North Billerica; John McSwaney, North Billerica; library table scarf, fancy table, Mrs. Edward Collins, Wilton street, North Billerica; embroidered towels, fancy table, Mrs. Isabel Cronin, 679 Chelmsford street, Lowell; pendant and chain, fancy table, Daniel V. McSwaney, North Billerica; bean guessing contest, H. L. Smith, 129 A street, Lowell. There were 5003 beans in the jar and Mr. Smith's guess was 5103. The total net profit realized was in excess of $1050. The fancy table netted $277; apron table, $246; candy, $63; grab, $25; refreshments, $115, while the balance was credited to the men's table and the sale of tickets.

CYCLES AND AUTO CRASH

An automobile operated by Samuel Dement of Woburn street collided with two motorcycles at the junction of Lawrence and Wampanoag streets last evening shortly before 7 o'clock. The automobile was being driven through Lawrence street, while the two motorcycles, one of which was being towed by the other, were going down Wampanoag street into Lawrence street, when the crash occurred. No one was injured and the machines were but slightly damaged.

OUTDOOR CARNIVAL

Everything is in readiness for the outdoor carnival to be conducted this evening on the grounds of the Highland Congregational church under the auspices of the Lowell Christian Endeavor union. The receipts of the event will be used to defray the expenses of the delegates to Northfield, the Y.P.S.C.E. training school, this summer.

Noted Labor Leader Dead

Mitchell was to the mine worker--a leader who worked his way up from the ranks. He was born in Lancashire, Eng., in 1853, where, as a boy, he began work in the cotton mills.

The department had before it an official report stating that seven shipyards had been closed with little or no prospect of reopening, among which are the International Shipbuilding Co., at Hog Island, Pa., and the Squantum plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Co. at Quincy, Mass.

In 1912 Golden was in charge of the textile strike involving 20,000 workers of Lowell and Lawrence, Mass.

He was close to the democratic administration during the period that Massachusetts was governed by the democratic party, and was appointed a number of temporary commissions which have handled important labor problems, such as the minimum wage matter and to the permanent board of labor and industry. He has served as member of the Civic Federation, which was a strong foe to child labor.

Mr. Golden is survived by his wife, three daughters, Mrs. William Suthe land, Mrs. James Dunn, Mrs. Joseph Smith, one son, William Henry Golden, all of this city. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Alice Brooks of Oldham, and Mrs. Theresa Clegg, of Ashton-on-the-Lyne, England. Besides these immediate relatives he leaves 29 grandchildren.

It was in 1932, when Golden was treasurer of the National Mule Spinners' organization of the United States

RHEUMATISM

Leaves You Forever

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if two bottles of Allenburh, the sure conqueror of rheumatism does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenburh has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been achieved in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiful and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenburh, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenburh decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed Druggists to guarantee it in every instance. ### and Canada, that the convention of the United Textile Workers in session at Lowell, Mass., elected him president to succeed James Kanney and each year, for 19 successive years, Golden has been returned as head of the union labor body with its 175,000 to 200,000 members.

During the textile strike of 1904 in Fall River, when 25,000 workers were out, Golden made an impassioned speech before the convention of the American Federation of Labor in San Francisco as a result of which, it is recorded, the A. F. of L. for the first time in its history, levied an assessment on all its members for the support of the idle men and women textile operatives of Fall River.

A LONG-DELAYED STEP

It is a cause for satisfaction that after months of urging by The Sun, it now seems probable that the municipal council is to take some steps toward performing its duties as set forth in the city charter by taking a hand in the direction of the street department. The statement is made with apparent authority that a more or less extensive change in the administrative officials of the department is to be made. Let it be remembered, however, that it is useless to remove inefficient men unless better men are put in their places.

It is unfortunate that the impression has seemed to prevail in the past, that civil service laws could be made effective to protect officials who had grown careless in the performance of their duties as a result of feeling that it was beyond the power of anybody to turn them out of office.

All that it was ever intended the civil service protection should afford to anyone was that it should be made difficult to remove officials of proved capability who were rendering faithful and efficient service. If it is not as easy as it once was to remove municipal employees who have become loafers on their jobs, and insolent in their attitude of disregard for the duties they are paid to perform, they can still be removed where there is a determination on the part of officials elected by the people to see that the public is efficiently served and its money economically spent.

The city charter provides very plainly a way in which appointed officials who have reached the conclusion that they are secure for life in the enjoyment of an income from the city, and who have proved themselves utterly unsatisfactory as public servants, can be reached and ousted and their places filled with men who will serve the public with greater faithfulness and efficiency.

Much of the unpopularity attaching to the civil service laws in the public mind is due to the common belief that no matter how unfit or worthless an official might prove after his appointment, there was no practical way in which to get his name off the public payroll. This common belief has been largely due to the cowardice of elected officials who have condoned the shortcomings of subordinates rather than incur the possible odium of offending them and their friends by placing upon them the condemnation they deserved.

It will be among not the least of the achievements of this somewhat remarkable year in Lowell's political history, if some steps be taken to serve notice on unprofitable public servants that civil service laws cannot keep them perpetually in the city's employ regardless of the value of their services to the city.

There have been few more courageous members of the municipal council than Street Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy, and there can be little doubt that any move to place the work of his department in efficient and willing hands will have his full support. In reputation, at least, he has been one of the principal sufferers from the shortcomings of a few of his subordinates.

It should not be supposed, though, that the street department is the only one in which reform is needed. It is safe to assume, too, that if the situation is handled with a firm hand there will be general improvement of morale in the whole staff of city employees.

AS TO CRIMINAL LIABILITY

In common with many others we have often wondered why the courts do not hold auto speedsters criminally liable when while violating the speed laws, they kill persons on the public highways.

Of course, we are not lawyers and may be mistaken; but reasoning from analogy, we believe that when an autoist disregards the restraints of law provided for public safety, he should be held criminally liable for the consequences in case he kills any person while running at the forbidden rate of speed.

We are confirmed in this belief by a decision given in a New York court to the effect that when a person keeps alcohol for other than medicinal purposes, and an explosion results, he is criminally liable, according to a ruling by Police Magistrate Short of Brooklyn. Where an autoist drives at the rate of thirty miles an hour where the speed limit is fifteen and a fatality results, why is he not criminally liable? We have had scores of fatalities in this city resulting from auto accidents and in several of them, it appeared that the speed limit had been exceeded. Yet the courts cleared the drivers of all criminal liability, whereas had said drivers kept within the speed limit, they could have avoided the accident which caused the fatalities. The overspeeding caused an accident; the accident caused a death; but there was found no criminal negligence, no liability on the driver could be held for manslaughter. If a burglar while in the act of robbing a dwelling, shoots somebody in order to effect his escape, he is charged with first degree murder. We do not wish to put the auto speedster in the same class, but we do say that he should be held criminally liable for causing death, if at the time of the accident he was driving at a rate of speed forbidden by law.

Until this principle of law is applied to the auto drivers involved in accidents, there will be no lessening in the number of fatalities resulting from reckless driving on the highways.

FIGHT OVER NEW BRIDGE

We are in receipt of a letter from Mayor Searles of the "young" city of Westfield, complaining of what he sternly claims to be a very unjust arrangement for apportioning the expense of constructing a bridge over the Connecticut river between Springfield and West Springfield. Mayor Searles states that the legislature having set no limit to the cost of the bridge, the estimated cost of the revised plans is $600,000, about one-third more than originally estimated. He then bluntly charges Speaker Young with trying to promote his political fortunes by having the cost of the bridge distributed over communities to which the structure will bring no benefit whatever.

The city of Westfield, according to the statement of her mayor, is ten miles distant from the bridge and has two other bridges which offer more convenient passage to the points to be connected by the new bridge. Nevertheless, Westfield under the present arrangement will have to pay perhaps $300,000 as her part of the cost of building a bridge that will benefit only her neighboring cities. It is as if Lowell were obliged to help pay for the Tyngham bridge across the Merrimack or a bridge across the Concord river above Haverhill. Under the circumstances, we believe the mayor of Westfield has good cause to complain. Furthermore, it is a bad precedent to establish to have a commission authorized to build a bridge without limiting the expense.

The commission appointed in 1915 under the act which authorized the bridge, devoted most of its time to laying out and replanning the structure. Very little attention was given to the matter of apportioning the cost. After the hearing on the question of apportionment, the commission changed the location, and adopted a plan much more expensive and then changed the apportionment without giving a hearing to the communities affected. Thus it seems Mayor Searles is doubly justified in complaining of the action of the commission as arbitrary and the apportionment, so far as Westfield is concerned, an imposition that can hardly be justified in law.

WHO HOLDS UP FOOD PRICES?

It is announced that the price of food has undergone a very considerable reduction; but somehow the housewife cannot see much confirmation of this statement in the prices she has to pay for her table supplies. It is true that wholesale prices have been quite radically reduced but nevertheless the retail price is not lowered in like proportion.

The disparity is sometimes rather surprising and it has been discussed in the press all over the country without bringing a satisfactory explanation. Even congress has been asked to find out how it is, that the farmer gets only 35 cents for every dollar his products bring when sold to the ultimate consumer. A special congressional commission has been proposed by concurrent resolution to inquire into this very matter.

Mr. C. S. Barrett, head of the National Board of Farm Organization, is strongly in favor of the inquiry and feels it will accomplish much good if enacted and its purposes carried out. This commission should be able to find why it is, that farm products in the open market cost the consumer about three times as much as the farmer receives for them. Possibly such a commission might be able to discover a profiteering middleman somewhere or else an unwillingness on the part of some retailers to be satisfied with a fair profit.

FIRE HAZARDS

These are times when it is necessary to be extremely cautious in guarding against fires; and it is equally necessary to be well prepared to handle any fire that may occur. In this, as in other matters in which life and property are involved, there is often a total lack of precaution.

Our farmers and foresters complain that campers and hunters are responsible for many fires that sweep valuable timberlands and sometimes destroy many buildings.

In buildings in which many people congregate there is often a total lack of the ordinary precautions for the protection of the occupants in case of fire. A striking instance of this came to light in a fire that occurred in a seven-story apartment house in Charleston on Sunday evening. Sparks from a nearby chimney started a fire on the upper floor and when the fire department arrived, the men found no night man or clerk in charge, no power on the elevator, and no protection whatever for the occupants if cut off by fire on the upper floors. The house had been run as a hotel but at night there was nobody in charge to sound the gong or otherwise notify the guests of their danger.

It would be interesting to find how many apartment houses in Lowell are left in that same way at night, without a clerk or watchman, and without anybody whose business it is to notify the occupants in case of fire. Perhaps it might be within the province of the firemen to investigate local conditions in this respect.

Secretary Weeks thinks that it is unthinkable that we should fight England, and let us hope that he thinks right, but why England more than any other country that has contributed to our cosmopolitan population and national life?

While other nations are worrying about their national debts, Uncle Sam can lean complacently back in his chair with the comfortable assurance that both his debtors and creditors are his own sons and daughters.

Mrs. C. Marshall Forrest thinks that the Charles W. Mercey school "has always been considered the best in the city," but where all are so excellent, can there be a "best"?

Babe Ruth has spent one day in jail for auto speeding, which is one day more than most of our local speedsters get in the rare instances in which they fall into the hands of the police.

What a joyous world this would be if all vacations were of the dimensions of that of the supreme court, which lasts from early June to October 10!

It is announced that the railroads are to cut rates on melons, which from the stockholders' point of view, is very different from cutting melons.

Never were the June roses more beautiful—that is, the ones in the cheeks of the sweet girl graduates and not an artificial one amongst them.

Prepare to let your neighbors see the Star Spangled Banner flying from your home next Tuesday—Flag Day.

SEEN AND HEARD

After vacation—what?

"Made in Germany": Preparations, depredations, reparations.

Feathered footwear worn in Paris. Should be popular with highfliers.

A stoopid painter gets on in life by starting at the top and working down.

Even the birds would have accidents if they tried to do aerobatics in the air.

The more successful your backyard garden, the lower the price of vegetables.

If that Pans-Winnecke comet gets a good look at world conditions, it probably won't return again.

Russian princesses are working as typists in U.S.A. But we'll bet they can't hold a candle alongside some American princess-typists.

French wine interests are planning to conduct an anti-prohibition campaign in the United States. Do they really fear the country might go dry?

Addressing girl graduates at Lake Forest, Ill., the orator stated that men want as wives girls with understanding and sympathy. Usually, the more understanding, the less sympathy.

Shocking Discovery

A little boy, the youngest member of a large family, was taken to see his married sister's new baby. He seemed more interested in the contents of the baby's basket than in the baby, and, after examining several pretty riles, picked up a powder puff. Much surprised at his discovery, and looking quite shocked, he said: "Isn't she rather young for that sort of thing?"

Raising the Price

An impossible person approached the secretary of his club. "I want your advice, sir," he said. "I have been deliberately insulted by one of the members. I was sitting in the smoking room when Col. came up to me and said without preamble, 'Sir, I will give you $100 if you will resign your membership in this club.' Now what ought I to do in the matter?" "It is perfectly obvious, sir," said the relieved secretary with alacrity. "Hold on for a better offer."

An Unusual Visitor

The darling little baby had just reached that age when he could con, an accomplishment in which he indulged most of the time, and probably his mother was telling the tale of his accomplishment. "He is the most welcome visitor I ever had," she said, giving him a smacking kiss. "He just lies and talks to me by the hour, don't you, baby? Don't you tell mother everything?" The baby cooed obligingly, and mother's friend replied: "Isn't that nice? So unlike other visitors—they just talk and lie to you by the hour!"

Sally Lunn Bun

The Bun called the Sally Lunn originated with a young woman of that name at Bath, England, about the end of the last century. She carried them in a basket, with a white cloth over it, morning and evening. Dalmier, a respectable baker and musician, noticed her, bought her business, made a song and set it to music in behalf of Sally Lunn. This composition became the street favorite; harrows were made to distribute the nice cakes. Dalmier profited thereby and retired, and to this day the Sally Lunn cake claims pre-eminence in all the cities of England.

Staying Power

A fragile thing you seemed to me in frock of flimsy blue. When I was introduced to you, And fell in love at sight, And yet you danced till half-past five.

From nine, or was it eight? And mocked at me because I felt Like nothing on a plate. Your form is of the slenderest. Ethereal your face. And yet you journeyed to the sales And fought to keep your place. You tramped about from shop to shop.

And urged in self-defense, You bought a dinky evening frock Reduced by eighteen pence. You look so delicate, my dear, And frail as any flower, And yet it seems to me you have Tremendous staying power. Your feet are tireless in their quest Of gay and thrill. Your tongue—ah, yes, I fancied so—(I hear you talking still!)— —DOROTHY ROSE, in Royal Magazine, London.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

George F. Wells, secretary-manager of the chamber of commerce was in city hall one day last week seeking information relative to where the chamber should file its street initiative petition where there was no record. For some time there was more or less question as to whether the petition should go to the city clerk or to the board of election commissioners. Mr. Wells was discussing the matter with the election commissioners and Representative Henry Achin happened to be among the present. Why don't you put the petition in an envelope and address it to When It May Concern, City Hall, and then you can't go wrong?" suggested the representative. The laugh that went up could be heard all over city hall basement. That petition concerns a very large number of people.

The Sells-Floto circus attracted a larger crowd than was expected. Indeed it was considered a surprise, and such a large attendance at a time when business is dull and a great many people unemployed. It was noticeable also that the small section of the great tent which was empty was not the reserve seat section but that of the lowest price seats. That is another proof that the people want the best and are willing to pay for it. By the way, I may say also, that the Sells-Floto circus presented a decidedly clear show with several new features and all the best of their kind. I noticed, however, that there was but slight patronage for the midway features outside the big canvas; and the various stands offering hot dogs, pink lemonade and ice cream cones barely made enough to pay for the barking. The African doctores were left severely alone, the crowd evident in feeling that they had got there to see the circus, not to practice for the Fourth of July. The Sells-Floto circus has for press agent Mr. E. J. Porter Hurley, a well known newspaperman, who served as American correspondent in France during the war. He states that so far as he has come through the country, the circus has found that there are cities more seriously affected by the business depression than are the textile cities of New England. Lowell, he says, is a busy place compared to some other cities he has visited.

The Wrecking of a City—As Seen From the Sky

This airplane photograph of Pueblo, Col., taken when the flood was at its worst, shows the junction of the Arkansas and Fountain rivers. Normally these streams are little more than creeks, but here the angry waters formed a rushing current a mile wide. In the left foreground is the wing of the plane from which the picture was taken. Center, the river bridge, swept from its foundations. Right, the railroad yards. Note the long line of cars, overturned by the water. Others are being carried down stream. Lower right-hand corner, a house and several box cars floating down the river. The streets visible in the picture are white streaks of foaming water.

"WAY DOWN EAST" COMING MONDAY

Seats are now on sale for the big picture production of "Way Down East," which B. F. Keith theatre next Monday afternoon for a special engagement of one week. The sale started this morning with a rush and the indications point to a rousing week's business for this much talked of sensation.

The production to be shown here is the one that has been running in the foremost temple all season and will be accompanied by the same large orchestra that has furnished music for the picture from the very first.

"Way Down East" is not a mere expanding of the stage play of the same name. Rather, the "Way Down East" that Griffith has provided is an entirely new picture, in which the story is a distinct moral, the conduct of men and women. The poor, disconsolate girl who is turned out into a terrible storm is a pathetic figure, indeed, and when she is seen lying helpless on an ice floe, drifting toward a menacing fall, there is a thrill that gets each onlooker in its grip. In the nick of time she is saved from death and then pent-up feeling comes forth in overwhelming applause. Lillian Gish, in the leading role, has achieved a success that at once places her in the foremost rank of American actresses. Richard Barthelmess, Mrs. Morgan Belmont, a social leader, Creighton Hale, Kate Bruce, Myra Gordon, Mary May, Burr McIntosh, George Neville, Edgar Nelson, Lowell Sherman, Porter Strong, Florence Short and others are seen. As usual with a Griffith production, there is a thematic score played by a large orchestra, and the music is a succession of delightful melodies and impressive compositions, accentuating each situation. Special lighting and mechanical effects, devised and invented by Griffith, add to effectiveness.

CHILDREN'S THEATRE

Conway Theatre in "Marooned Hearts," a National picture, which shows the folly of making sacrifices to gratify whims, will be the attraction for the last three days of the week at the Kialto theatre.

Teatime, giving promise of becoming the world's foremost surgeon, but he is handicapped by the love of Marlon Alsworth, who insists that he devote more of his time to her and less to his practice. The climax comes when the girl intercepts a note calling upon the doctor to perform a difficult operation, so that he may accompany her on a boating trip.

NEW LAKEVIEW PARK

Free vaudeville at Lakeview is one of the attractions of this week. The Mount Brothers, a trio of the world's greatest comedians, are giving exhibitions of their artistry every afternoon and evening. Their work is a real treat. In the big dance hall, Miner-Boyle's orchestra of an pieces play an inspiring program for dancing under the direction of Professor Agnew. Dancing at Lakeview is different. The other attractions continue to please thousands of patrons.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

The present in the concluding week of vaudeville at the B. F. Keith theatre, and Manager Fickett has supplied a full complement of the world's greatest comedians, giving promise of becoming the world's foremost surgeon, but he is handicapped by the love of Marlon Alsworth, who insists that he devote more of his time to her and less to his practice. The climax comes when the girl intercepts a note calling upon the doctor to perform a difficult operation, so that he may accompany her on a boating trip.

THE STRAND

If you haven't seen Mr. George Arliss in "The Devil," which is being shown on the week's bill, at the Strand, then be sure and avail yourself of the remaining opportunities. It's a real, worth-while offering, in which the star is seen in most commendable work. His portrayal of the devil is surely the work of an artist.

In connection with the presentation of this wonderful film is an original production, presented by Charles Barton, late of the Lowell Playhouse, and Mrs. Mildred Pendreum, a top dancer of world. Resident Manager Samuel Torgun is responsible for the arrangements and carrying through of this feature. It is a most enjoyable novelty and quite new to motion picture circles in this city.

DARLING BABY BRIGHTENS HOME

Children's Laughter a Pleasing Sound

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. We had six children almost at birth. From one hour to nine years is all they have lived. Before my next one was born I took a dozen bottles of your Vegetable Compound, and I can say that it is the greatest medicine on earth, for this baby is now four months old, and a healthier baby you would not want. I am sending you a picture of her. Everybody says 'That is a very healthy looking baby.' You have my consent to show these few lines to anybody."—Mrs. C. W. BENZ, 131 3rd Avenue, Altoona, Pa.

Mrs. Jansson's experience of interest to childless wives.

Millston, Wis.—"I want to give you a word of praise for your wonderful medicine. We are fond of children, and for a considerable time after we were married I feared I would not have any. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it strengthened me so I now have a nice, strong, healthy baby girl. I suffered very little at childbirth, and I give all the credit to your medicine, and shall always recommend it highly."—Mrs. H. H. JANSEN, Millston, Wis.

Mrs. Held of Marinette, Wis., adds her testimonial for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She says:

Marinette, Wis.—"I was in a nervous condition and very irregular. My doctor advised an operation. My husband brought me one of your booklets and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It overcame my weakness so that I now have a healthy baby girl, after having been married nine years. I am glad to recommend your medicine, and you may use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. H. B. HELD, 330 Jefferson St., Marinette, Wis.

There are many, many such homes that were once childless, and are now blessed with healthy, happy children because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored the mother to a strong and healthy condition, as it acts as a natural restorative for ailments as indicated by backache, irregularities, displacements, weakness and nervousness.

Women everywhere should remember that most of the commoner ailments of women are not the surgical ones—they are not caused by serious displacements or growths, although the symptoms may be the same, and that is why so many apparently serious ailments readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it acts as a natural restorative. It can be taken with perfect safety and often prevents serious troubles.

Therefore if you know of any woman who is suffering and has been unable to secure relief and is regretfully looking forward to a childless old age, ask her to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it has brought health and happiness into so many homes once darkened by illness and despair.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

CHILDREN ENTERTAINED

Hundreds of Lowell children swarmed to R. F. Keith's theatre late yesterday afternoon to enjoy the free entertainment staged by the Twentieth Century.

For three-quarters of an hour the kiddies were made happy by the antics of "Busby Brown" and "Tiger," characters famous in newspaper comics and by a series of excellent motion pictures. Incidentally, here were men on hand to exhibit and explain the footprints sold by the 20th century store.

Are You Human?

A little baby. A little child. Don't they appeal to you? Doesn't your heart yearn to pick them up, to cuddle them close to you, to shield them from all harm? sure it does else you're not human. Being human you love them. Their very helplessness makes you reach out in all your strength to aid them. In health there's no flower so beautiful. In illness there's no sight so black.

Save them then. Use every precaution. Take no chance.

When sickness comes, as sickness will, remember it's just a baby, just a child and if the Physician isn't at hand don't try some remedy that you may have around the house for your own use.

Fletcher's Castoria was made especially for babies' ills and you can use it with perfect safety as any doctor will tell you. Keep it in the house.

Children Cry For

Fletcher's
CASTORIA

Do the People Know?

Do you know why you are asked to call for Fletcher's Castoria when you want a child's remedy? why you must insist on Fletcher's? For years we have been explaining how the popularity of Fletcher's Castoria has brought out innumerable imitations, substitutes and counterfeits.

To protect the babies to shield the homes and in defense of generations to come we appeal to the better judgment of parents to insist on having Fletcher's Castoria when in need of a child's medicine. And remember above all things that a child's medicine is made for children—a medicine prepared for grown-ups is not interchangeable. A baby's food for a baby. And a baby's medicine is just as essential for the baby.

The Castoria Recipe (it's on every wrapper) has been prepared by the same hands in the same manner for so many years that the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and perfection in the product are synonymous.

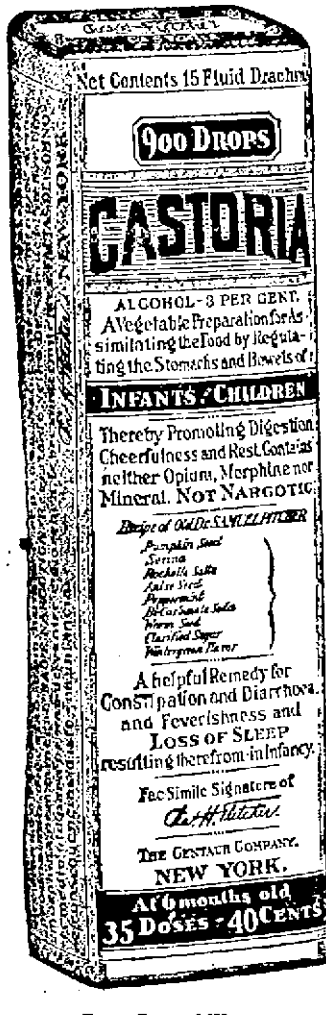

MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA.

Imman was driving the machine which struck and fatally injured Hugh McGrogan, local expressman, April 14.

The accident occurred on Green street, while McGrogan, a man of middle age, was standing close to his wagon. It is stated: "Taken to St. John's hospital, the victim of the accident died within a few hours. Traffic Officer Maloney, in the meanwhile, had accompanied Imman to police headquarters, where after an investigation he was charged with violating the automobile laws on two counts. He was released in bonds of $400.

The following morning, when he appeared in the police court, an additional charge of manslaughter awaited him, as McGrogan's death had taken place during the night. He was bonded for a continuance, and departed. When his case was called later he failed to respond, and was declared a trail leading to Littleton, N. H., and thence to Portland, Me., where Imman was taken into custody by the authorities there. Brought back to this city by Inspector McCann, he was booked on three charges, the manslaughter complaint having been upheld by Judge John J. Pickman, who at the request reported a finding of guilty of criminal negligence.

"You are charged with a serious offense," declared Judge Bright to the prisoner this morning when his case came before the court. "You have been found guilty of criminal negligence, and you should engage counsel and request a continuance." Imman acted on this advice of his honor, and immediately secured an attorney.

Cases Continued Again

The cases of John T. and Herbert C. Lough, charged with attempted breaking and entering the camp of Jason H. Kingsbury at Tyngsboro, were today continued for a fourth time at the request of their counsel. Witnesses for the government were opposed to further delay, but the attorney for the defendant said he had just come into the case this morning. There will be a hearing June 15.

Larceny Charge

The case of Charles O. Brewer, charged with larceny of $100 from Hugo Hill, was continued to June 15, when the wife of the defendant professed a desire to "get a lawyer and settle this thing." When his case was called later he failed to respond, and was declared a trail leading to Littleton, N. H., and thence to Portland, Me., where Imman was taken into custody by the authorities there. took from Adolphe Chaput and left at Hampton, N. H., and which Chaput testified "wasn't worth towing back" when he found it. Asked by the court what he considered a fair valuation for the car, Chaput repeated the figure he first gave, $295, stating that he "didn't want to make it too high." Both defendants are under bonds.

Suspended Sentence

William J. Cahill, who pleaded guilty to neglect of his wife, received a suspended three months' sentence to the house of correction, and was ordered to pay $8 a week under penalty of execution of sentence. He agreed to do this.

For Improper Conduct

The case of Rose Warren, charged with improper conduct, and also with drunkenness, was continued to tomorrow at the request of the government, whose witnesses this morning were all at the federal court session. Dewitt Mosely, charged with maintaining a disorderly house and with being present at a game on the Lord's day, was held for the same date, as witnesses were the same, both defendants having been arrested at the same time and place.

Held in $1000

Arthur McGlinchey, charged with assault and battery, waived the reading of the complaint through counsel, pleaded not guilty, and asked for a continuance. This was granted, and bonds were fixed at $1000 for a hearing Saturday.

THE CRAZY QUILT

BY, AHERN

Scores of Bodies and Millions in Goods Lie Strewn In Mire

DENVER, Colo., June 8.—Ten million dollars worth of Pueblo goods, and scores of bodies of Pueblo citizens lie strewn in the mire and the quicksands of inundated farm lands for thirty-five miles south on both sides of the raging Arkansas river, below Pueblo, according to a dispatch today to the Denver Times.

To Declare de Valera's Election Void

LONDON, June 8.—Practical action has been instituted, says the Belfast correspondent of the Evening News today, with the view to making void the election of Eamonn de Valera, the Irish republican leader, as a member of the new Ulster parliament, on the ground that he is an alien. A leading firm of Belfast lawyers, according to the correspondents has been engaged to investigate de Valera's antecedents and already steps are afoot for the collection of evidence in the United States and elsewhere, especially from his speeches.

New N. E. Dry Chief Takes Oath

BOSTON, June 8.—Elmer C. Potter of Worcester, newly appointed prohibition enforcement officer for New England, took the oath of office today. He said he had no statement of policy to make as yet, nor would he have any statement until he had become familiar with the situation. "You might as well ask an immigrant what he thinks of America when he reaches port," he remarked.

For Referendum On Movie Censorship

BOSTON, June 8.—Steps to have the motion picture censorship law passed by the last legislature submitted to the voters by referendum, were taken today. Judge J. Albert Brackett of Boston, as counsel for theatrical interests headed the list of signers to a preliminary petition which under the initiative and referendum procedure, acts to suspend operation of the law for ninety days. If during that period 15,000 additional names are filed the matter will be placed on the ballot at the state election in November, 1922.

Harding Renames Wilson Nominee

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Brig. Gen. George C. Rickards of the Pennsylvania National Guard, nominated by President Wilson for chief of the militia bureau but never confirmed, was renominated for the place today by President Harding.

Mrs. Stillman Names Correspondent

YONKERS, N. Y., June 8.—Mrs. Anne U. Stillman, defending the suit for divorce brought against her by James A. Stillman, New York banker, today filed an amended answer naming a woman known only as Clara as a second correspondent. The first woman named was Mrs. Florence Leeds, a former Broadway chorus girl. John P. Brennan, chief counsel for the defense, made public the amended answer here. Supreme Justice Keough had announced yesterday at New Rochelle, that he would accept it. Mr. Brennan announced that Mrs. Stillman would attend the hearings when they were resumed in Poughkeepsie, June 15, but that Guy S. Stillman, the child whose paternity is questioned, would not be there.

Autoist Convicted of Manslaughter

SPRINGFIELD, June 8.—Albert R. Peach, of this city, was sentenced to between four and five years in state prison by Judge C. T. Callahan in superior court today after a jury had returned a verdict of guilty of manslaughter. The charge was the outgrowth of a collision between Peach's automobile and another car in Wilbraham in which Mrs. Harriet E. Peck of Mondon, an occupant of the other car, was killed.

To Salvage Sunken Esperanto

HALIFAX, N. S., June 8.—The Halifax Herald which offered the trophy for the annual international fishermen's races, today suggested that Nova Scotians might beat Yankees with their own boat. It said it had been advised by experts that the Gloucester schooner Esperanto, winner of last year's contest, which recently sank off Sable Island, could easily be raised. It added that if New Englanders did not salvage her, Nova Scotians might.

GLOUCESTER, June 8.—The suggestion of the Halifax Herald that the sunken Gloucester schooner Esperanto, winner of the fisherman's race last year, might be raised by Nova Scotians and refitted for use against the American contender in this year's race, was hailed with a smile by Gloucestermen today. They admitted that as the insurance companies had given up the vessel, the Canadian suggestion might be feasible, but said that the owners of the Esperanto were still considering the idea of raising her.

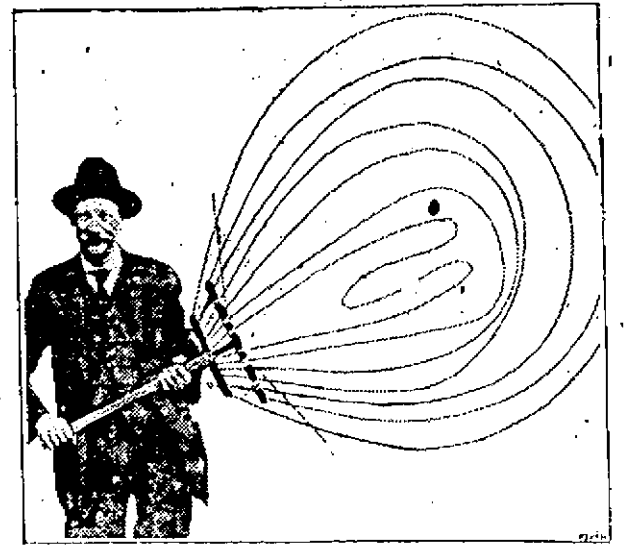

Gov. Cox Names Rosenthal for Sheriff

BOSTON, June 8.—Irving L. Rosenthal of Provincetown, was nominated for sheriff of Barnstable county by Governor Cox today. His name was sent to the council for approval. Rosenthal will succeed Henry M. Perreval, who was killed in an automobile accident recently.

Wires Cut All Over England

LONDON, June 8.—(By the Associated Press)—An epidemic of telegraph and telephone wire cutting in various parts of England was attributed today by the police to Sinn Feiners.

HUSBANDS!

NEW ADVANCE BY TURKS THREATENED

LONDON, June 8.—Large military reinforcements have been received by Mustafa Kemal Pasha, head of the Turkish nationalist government at Angora, and he is threatening to advance upon the Black sea and the sea of Marmora. The Angora government is said to have taken an arrogant attitude toward the allies. Despatches containing these statements were featured by London newspapers this morning, and the situation in Asia Minor was declared to hold alarming possibilities. Assertion is made by the Daily Sketch that the British government had received reports of a grave nature from its representatives in Constantinople, which is declared to be menaced with capture by the Turkish nationalists. The newspaper says large reinforcements for British troops in Constantinople are necessary if that city and the Dardanelles are to be retained in the hands of the western powers. British representatives there, the newspaper says, have advised the government that if reinforcements are not available, it is desirable that British forces in the near east and middle east be withdrawn to India. Information received by the Journal would appear to imply the inability of the Greek army operating at present between the nationalist positions and Constantinople to stem any advance by the nationalists, who are generally regarded as co-operating with the Russian bolsheviks.

GALLIVAN MOVES TO STOP BIG BOUT

WASHINGTON, June 8.—A resolution designed to prohibit the Dempsey-Carpenter fight unless congress meanwhile shall have "fairly treated" Americans who served in the world war, was in the house today by Representative Gallivan of Boston. In a statement he characterized Dempsey as "a big bum who dodged the draft" and declared that France had been at war for months before Carpenter joined the colors. "The men who will pay $50 for a rhinestone seat to look at these two fighters," he said, "overwhelmed members of the last congress with their letters of protest against paying a mere pittance of a soldier's bonus to real champions. It would not have cost these men individually $50 to have helped meet the cost of a soldier bonus bill. "I am opposed to this international bout on American soil where millions of American money are to be wasted until the American service men and women have been fairly treated by the American government."

POLES ROUTED BY BRITISH FORCES

5000 Insurgents Driven Out
of City of Rosenberg,
Northeast of Oppeln

British Took Possession of
City Without Firing a Shot
—Given Ovation

OPPELN, June 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Five thousand Polish insurgents have been driven out of the city of Rosenberg, northeast of this city, by British forces. Last night the Poles were retreating in a southeasterly direction and many had passed the city of Lubowitz, about 10 miles from Rosenberg.

The British did not fire a shot in taking possession of Rosenberg. The Poles dropped a few poorly aimed shells behind them and let a scattering of machine guns, which had been set up in a road, and fled. When the British marched further into the city they found a Polish commander, with 300 men. He was directed to leave the city within an hour. He said this was impossible and he was warned that every insurgent found in Rosenberg at the expiration of an hour would be held for examination. A search of the city later in the evening showed that all the insurgents had departed on time.

The people of Rosenberg gave the British an ovation, girls trying to kiss the soldiers, and old women weeping. There was no attempt on the part of the British to disarm the Poles, a British colonel saying: "We are attempting to avoid a civil war and are attempting to re-establish allied authority without bloodshed."

DEATHS

GOOKIN—Miss Marietta Gookin, an esteemed young woman of this city, died yesterday at St. John's hospital, after a brief illness. She leaves one sister, Mrs. Daniel H. Walker and a brother, John F. Gookin. The body was removed to the home of her sister, Mrs. Daniel H. Walker, 114 Hanks st., by undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

COTE—Virginia, aged 3 days, infant daughter of Louis and Agnes Cote died last night at the home of her parents, 36 Apple street. Burial took place this morning at 11 o'clock in St. Joseph's cemetery, under the direction of Undertakers Amedeo Archambault & Sons.

DEMERS—Mrs. Alfred Demers, nee Marie Louise Marchand, aged 73 years, died this morning at her home, 153 Salem street. She leaves her husband, five sons, Eugene, of Sherbrooke, Que., Achille, of Montreal, and Napoleon, all of this city; two daughters, Mrs. Marie Louise Mainville of this city and Miss Diane Demers of Canada. She was a member of St. Anne's sodality.

FUNERALS

ESTABROOK—The funeral of William H. Estabrook was held at the funeral home, 222 Westford street, yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. A. R. Dills, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church. The deceased was the husband of the late Mrs. Estabrook and was born in England. He was a member of the Calvary Baptist church and was a well-known citizen of this city.

JACQUET—The funeral services of Mrs. Susan J. Jacquet were held at her home, 111 Hill street, yesterday afternoon. Rev. J. Harold Dale, pastor of the Congregational church of Billerica Centre, officiating. There were many flowers. Mrs. Jacquet was born in England and was a well-known citizen of this city.

BUTLER—The funeral services of John Douglas Butler were held at the home of Undertaker W. Herbert Blake yesterday afternoon. Rev. J. C. C. Hayes, pastor of the Paige Street Baptist church, officiating. The deceased was a well-known citizen of this city and was a member of the Baptist church.

CARD OF THANKS
We, the undersigned, take this means of expressing our heartfelt thanks to all our relatives and friends who by their many acts of kindness, words of consolation, expressions of sympathy, spiritual and moral offerings helped to lighten our burden of sorrow in our recent bereavement at the death of our beloved wife and sister, Mrs. Helen V. (Gormley) Finnegan. To each and all we are deeply grateful, and shall ever remember their many kindly acts.

People From All Walks of Life at Funeral of Michael
J. Lynch

The funeral of Michael J. Lynch, for more than a quarter of a century head custodian of the Lowell high school, who died Monday as the result of an accident, was held this morning and was attended by representatives of practically every municipal department together with hundreds of others from various walks of life. The funeral took place at 9 o'clock from the late home, 10 Orford street, and at 10 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem was sung at St. Columba's church. The celebrant was Rev. John A. Degan, former pastor of St. Columba's, but now of St. Mary's Star-of-the-Sea church in Beverly. He was assisted by Rev. Thomas F. Buckley, formerly of St. Columba's church, but now of St. Vincent's church, South Boston, as deacon, and Rev. Francis M. Somers of St. Columba's church as sub-deacon.

Present in the sanctuary were Rev. Thomas McManmon of St. Margaret's church, Dorchester; Rev. Thomas P. Heaney of St. John's church, North Chelmsford; and Rev. James C. McDermott, O.M.I. of the Sacred Heart church, Rev. Percival J. Quill was master of ceremonies.

The bearers were John M. Hagan, Henry L. Williams, John Danlon, Chas. McLaughlin, James J. Gallagher, Chas. Thornton, John Moran and Thomas Murphy. The ushers were the following officers of the Lowell high school regiment: Col. Wm. A. Thompson, Maj. John J. Sullivan, Maj. Arthur J. Riley and Capt. Wm. H. McCann.

Among the officials present were Mayor Perry D. Thompson, Chairman Thomas B. Delaney and the other members of the school committee, Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools, Purchasing Agent Edward H. Foran, and the Rev. John A. Degan. The church was crowded to the doors during the mass and many stood in the corridor in the rear.

The musical program was under the direction of Miss Catherine Wholey, director of St. Columba's choir, who presided at the organ. At the offertory Miss Frances Tighe sang the "Pie Jesu" and after the elevation the "O Meritum Passionis" was sung by Mr. Fred Cummings. Commissioner James F. Donnelly sustained the soles in the "De Profundis."

The entire faculty of the Lowell high school attended the services in a body headed by Henry H. Harris, headmaster. Both the day and evening high schools were represented. There were also representatives from the various elementary schools of the city.

The Lowell janitors' association was represented by President Thomas J. Quinn, Timothy H. Rohan, vice president, William Nyack, John Barrett, Thomas F. Hannahan and Thomas M. Keegan.

As the funeral cortege came down Merrimack street, near Kirk street, the employees of the construction firm working on the new high school building where Mr. Lynch met his death stood with heads uncovered.

There were many beautiful floral offerings, a large black-draped truck being filled with expressions of sorrow from friends and relatives of the deceased.

Burial was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery where the committal services were conducted by Rev. Fr. Degan, assisted by Rev. Fr. Buckley, Rev. Fr. Heaney, Rev. Fr. McManmon and Rev. Fr. Somers. The funeral arrangements were in charge of William P. Thornton under the general direction of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

Out of respect to Mr. Lynch's memory, the regular session at the high school was suspended today and the school department offices in city hall were closed during the funeral. The flag on the high school building was at half mast.

IS KNOWN UNDER THREE SEPARATE ALIASES

Owen McAleer, recently held in bonds of $5000 for the grand jury by Judge Enright in the police court, on charges of robbing Lyndon Felling and breaking and entering the Paris Lunch, is known to the state authorities under three separate aliases. He was learned today by the police. McAleer is also an ex-convict, according to the state report, having been committed to the Massachusetts reformatory for five years, June 10, 1919, on charges of breaking and entering. He was "sent up" from the Suffolk superior court, and was paroled June 14, 1920. His stock of pseudonyms include Joseph Meriden, Joseph Merdin and Joseph Meredith.

Samuel C. Campbell, also implicated in the Paris Lunch and Felling and bery affairs, and held with McAleer for the grand jury, also sports a record, having been sent from the Middlesex county superior court to the Massachusetts reformatory for five years on charges of breaking and entering, Sept. 9, 1912. He was paroled Oct. 15, 1913, returned for violation of his permit Dec. 25, 1915, again paroled March 11, 1916, and again returned Nov. 16, 1917. He was finally released May 15, 1917.

Campbell and McAleer were charged with participating in a "job" in which Lyndon Felling, sealed in an automobile with a female companion on First street, was relieved of his watch at the point of a revolver, while an effort was made to remove a ring from the lady's finger. George Watson, also charged with being "spilled beans" to the police, it is said, making a confession of the circumstances of the affair. The Paris Lunch break occurred on the night of April 30, when a safe was removed bodily from that Middlesex street establishment, and was found under some boards the next day, some 250 yards from its rightful location.

RENEWING OLD ACQUAINTANCES
Joseph Larouche, a former resident of this city and now of Los Angeles, Cal., is renewing acquaintances in Lowell. The young man, who is a veteran of the world war, left this city about three years ago and went west, settling at Los Angeles, about 300 miles north of Los Angeles, and went to work as a mechanic in an automobile repair shop. Now he is the proprietor of a large garage and reports business is very good. Mr. Larouche will leave next Monday on his homeward journey, and proposes to stop a few days at Baltimore and Washington, D.C., en route.

INCREASE IN RENTS AND FAMILIES

Lowell landlords will hereafter have no legal right to increase the rent of their tenants because of an increase in a tenant's family, according to Chapter 432 of the Acts of 1921, a copy of which has just reached the office of the city solicitor.

This chapter makes "unenforceable" a previous enactment which authorized stipulations in leases for a raise in rent because of an increase in a tenant's family.

Class of Twenty-five Received Diplomas in Southwick Hall Yesterday

Posthumous Degree Awarded Senior, Recently Killed in Automobile Accident

Medal for Highest Standing Goes to Young Man From the Orient

Addresses by Mayor Thompson and Prof. Sharp of Boston University

"I rode the other day in the automobile of one of the four wealthiest men in all the world; and the chauffeur was not getting enough money to send his little girls to high school. This man was not getting a decent chance, a fair American chance to educate his children."

WEN CHUAN CHANG

of the leisure classes made by Dr. Dallas Lore Sharp, eminent scholar and author, at the commencement exercises of the class of 1921, Lowell Textile school, held yesterday afternoon in Southwick hall, before a large audience and in the presence of Mayor Perry D. Thompson, representing the municipality, as guest of honor, twenty-five young men received the congratulations of His Honor, and of President Charles H. Eames, S.B., of the institution, and were urged by Dr. Sharp to "go forth and find adventure in this world. Be dreamers; but make your dreams real."

Honor For Orient
The medal offered by the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers to the student having the highest average throughout his course in studies connected with cotton manufacture, was awarded to Wen Chuan Chang of Nantong, China, who was also presented a diploma conferring the degree of bachelor of textile engineering. In his speech of presentation, President Eames said: "Since that

CATCHING CRIMINALS BY WIRELESS MAY BE NEXT GREAT INNOVATION

Lowell Radio Club Starts New Method of Checking Illegal Acts and Cooperates With Local Police Department

With the theft of automobiles, now of such startling frequency in this section, become but a dim memory within the near future? Will feeling culprits, seeking to escape the law, be captured with ease, where now they must be laboriously trailed?

These surprising developments appear in sight right here in Lowell. The local police department may soon have perfected a mysterious agent, speedier than the fastest racing car or the most swift flying plane, which will stamp out certain species of crime with amazing suddenness and render the fugitive from justice an arrested man to all intents and purposes, from the moment of his wrongdoing.

The Lowell Radio club is the organization which has started the new method of checking illegal acts, and the club is already co-operating with the local authorities in flushing far and wide the news of prison deliveries, the stealing of automobiles, and other acts in violation of the law, which involve the flight of the guilty parties from one city to another.

No matter how important or how slight the matter, the radio is a tireless messenger of justice. On the blotter at police headquarters this morning there lay a small yellow slip of paper, bearing these significant words, "T. N. E. Lowell Radio club, received at No. 1 L. I. 3 p. m. June 9, 1921. No. 1 Ford sedan, painted black, Massachusetts registration number, 2415."

This tiny slip of paper means simply that hardly had the loss of the car, the number of which is given, been reported to the Boston officials, when operators sent buzzing into the ether, wireless messages to every city and town north, south, east and west to which the stolen car could be taken.

Although communication had not been had with the Boston authorities this morning, it is believed that the prompt action of the radio in all probability resulted in the recovery of the stolen car and the apprehension of the thief or thieves.

A little lad who did not understand that he was going to be helped and befriended, may be saved from accident or mischance of some other serious nature by the same agency.

Tony Schiavone, described by wireless as a 13-year-old lad of stocky build, dark complexion, and wearing brown corduroy pants and heavy brown shoes, ran away from the Children's Aid society. No sooner had the occurrence been reported to the police of Boston, than forth went the clicking and purring of the radio code, and this morning all the details of the happening lay on the desk at Lowell police headquarters, as it lay on the desks of police stations in cities and towns in every direction.

Members of the radio club say that they prefer their wonderful sport-profession, because however you take

EVERETT E. TAYLOR
Club President

it, as a pastime, a vacation, a sport, or any name you may choose, it combines the two qualities of thrill and value. The Lowell young men who had the energy and vision to put across the first "dance by wireless" perhaps ever staged in all history, are out, according to their statements, to do bigger things. And some of the police feel that one of their achievements may be the blotting out of many forms of crime now engaging the earnest efforts of every law-keeping agency, and not with the perfect effect that radio may give birth to.

ISSUE MAY NOT REACH COUNCIL

Asserted That There is a Chance Street Initiative May Fail

Difficulties in the Way of Certifying Names and Addresses of Signers

Voting Lists Are Not Likely To Be Ready for Use for Some Time

There is a possibility that the members of the municipal council, ground between the upper and nether millstones of a widely signed petition of the chamber of commerce for contract street work and adverse protests and pressure from city employees and labor organizations, may be able to slip from their nerve-wearying position without the loss of political prestige. The city charter provides that the city clerk shall, with the assistance of the registrars of voters, examine the signatures on initiative petitions and certify to the council that they are those of legal voters and that their residences are correctly given as of the previous April 1. It is admitted that there are grave physical difficulties in the way of examining the names within ten days allowed by law. In the opinion of City Solicitor William D. Regan, and other attorneys familiar with municipal law, if the city clerk is unable to attach his "certificate of sufficiency" within the prescribed ten days the petitions will automatically become non-effective and the work of gathering signatures would have to be done all over again to get the matter before the municipal council.

In City Clerk's Hands

The initiative petitions will go into the hands of City Clerk Stephen Flynn not later than the first of next week, according to a statement today by Secretary-Manager George F. Wells, of the chamber of commerce. The petitions will contain upwards of 6000 signatures. Half of them may be thrown out as not complying with the law, and there will still be a sufficient number left to get the matter before the municipal council. "It is up to the city officials to take proper action in disposing of the petitions," said Mr. Wells, today. We are not worrying about what may happen after we turn

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 9.—F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the American Legion, was killed and

F. W. GALBRAITH, JR.

Henry J. Ryan of Indianapolis, national director of the legion's Americanism commission and Milton J. Foreman of Chicago, national committee-man of the legion from Illinois, were injured when an automobile in which they were riding, went over an embankment here early today.

The three men were returning to the city from the Country club, in Mr. Ryan's car. The car failed to make a slight turn in the road and ran over the curbing across the sidewalk and turned over several times landing at the foot of a 20-foot embankment. All three men were thrown clear of the car as it went down.

Mr. Galbraith suffered a fracture of the skull in the fall and died on the way to the hospital.

The accident occurred about 1:30 o'clock this morning when the men were returning to Indianapolis from

Mr. Dewey Somers Darling of South Byegate, Vt., and Miss Helen Marguerite Badger of this city were married last evening at the home of the bride's father, Mr. William E. Badger, 105 Beacon street, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Wm. B. Tutill, pastor of the Eliot Congregational church. Mrs. Warren W. Fox, a sister of the groom, was matron of honor, while the bridesmaids were Miss Louise Boardman and Miss Marie Richardson. The best man was Dr. George L. Darling, a brother of the groom. Upon their return from a honeymoon trip to the mountains and Lake George the couple will make their home at 105 Beacon street.

Guy—Leary
The marriage of Mr. John Joseph Guy of Gloucester, N. J., and Miss Elizabeth Gertrude Leary of this city took place yesterday at St. Michael's church, the ceremony being performed at a nuptial mass celebrated by Rev. T. J. Haggerty. Miss Katherine L. Leary, a sister of the bride was bridesmaid, while the best man was Mr. Edward Guy, a brother of the groom. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Leary, 21 Nineteenth st. The couple will make their home in Gloucester, N. J.

Porter—Loneragan
Mr. William E. Porter and Miss Emma Loneragan, both of this city, were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at St. Patrick's rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Francis Keenan. The bride wore a white Duchess satin gown trimmed with lilies of the valley and pearls; she also wore a veil entrained, caught up with lilies of the valley, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Eleanor Loneragan, a sister of the bride, wore pink organdie with picture hat to match and carried pink sweet peas. The best man was Mr. Ralph Porter, a brother of the groom. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a cameo ring, while the groom's favor to the best man was a pair of gold cuff links. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, followed by a wedding supper. The home was handsomely decorated with cut flowers, foliage and ferns. After an extended wedding trip to New York the happy couple will make their home at 407 High street. Attending the festivities were guests from New Haven, Northboro, Framingham and Boston.

Gavagan—Murphy
Mr. Frank J. Gavagan of Canton, Mass., and Miss Catharine G. Murphy, a well known young woman of this city, were married late yesterday afternoon, the ceremony being performed at 5 o'clock at St. Patrick's rectory by Rev. Francis Keenan. The bride was becomingly attired in white bridal satin with veil of Belgian lace, caught up with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet. She was attended by her sister, Miss Grace M. Murphy, who wore rose organdie with white overdress and carried pink sweet peas. The best man was Mr. Leo J. Gavagan, a brother of the groom. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Alice M. Murphy, 55 Arlington street, which was prettily decorated with wild flowers and marguerites. In the course of the reception a wedding supper was served under a large tent on the beautiful lawn of the home and in attendance at the festivities were guests from Canton, Forest Hills, Arlington and Brighton. Late in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Gavagan, who were made the recipients of a profusion of handsome gifts left on a honeymoon trip to New York and Atlantic City and after Sept. 1 they will be at home to their friends at 55 Conwell avenue, West Somerville. The groom is connected with the Boston, Woburn and Andover prominent insurance brokers of Boston, while the bride was a popular local school teacher.

Roberts—Mallett
Tuesday morning at a nuptial mass celebrated in the Catholic church of Greendale, Mr. Marcel Roberts of this city and Miss Vivian Mallett of Andover, were united in the bonds of matrimony, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Louis Gauthier of Milbury, a former classmate of the groom. At the close of the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride and in attendance from Lowell were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Z. Chenevix and their son, Mrs. Roberts, Mr. Victor Rochette, Mr. Joseph Schiller and Mr. Dewey G. Archambault, all of this city. After an extended honeymoon trip to Baltimore and Washington the couple will make their home at 55 Forrest street, this city.

Owens—Martin
Mr. John J. Owens and Miss Margaret G. Martin were married Monday morning at a nuptial mass celebrated at the Sacred Heart church, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Fr. McDermott, O.M.I. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Martin, while the best man was Mr. James Owens, a cousin of the groom. At the close of the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride, 14 Saratoga street and at noon the happy couple, who were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts, left on a honeymoon trip and upon their return they will make their home in this city.

Rogers—Farrell
The marriage of Mr. Francis Paul Rogers and Miss Elizabeth M. Farrell, two well known young people of this city, took place late yesterday afternoon, the ceremony being performed at 5 o'clock at the Sacred Heart rectory by the pastor, Rev. John P. Flynn, O.M.I. The bride was attired in blue Canton crepe with hat to match and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid was Miss Anna F. Farrell, who wore pilgrim gray Canton crepe with hat to match and carried sweet peas. The best man was Mr. Michael J. Rogers. After an extended honeymoon trip the couple will make their home at 35 Mead st.

Many New Features Added This Year to the High School Magazine—Congratulations for Students

This year's High School Review staff has turned out one of the most readable magazines that the school has had in many years and the students are being congratulated on the success of their endeavors. Under the direction of Richard Chase, editor-in-chief, many new features have been added to the monthly school magazine this year and the students have more than responded with their support.

A number of recess dances to help out the finances of the publication have been staged during the year and have been very gratifyingly patronized by the student body. The high cost of paper and increases in other expenses entering into the publication of the Review have necessitated some additional means for securing financial support besides that received from advertising and subscription.

Plot for Revolution in Sweden

STOCKHOLM, June 9.—What the newspapers here today considered as a sensational and widespread plot for a bolshevik revolution in Sweden, was uncovered as a result of the arrest of a widely known bolshevik leader in Kiruna, in the iron mining district. It was said that a communist organization was discovered. Several arrests have been made in Stockholm.

WILLIAM J. JOHNSON

Lowell Young Man Receives
B. A. Degree at George Washington University

William Joseph Johnson, of 55 Oakland street, Lowell, received the bachelor of arts degree yesterday at the 100th commencement of George Washington university, Washington, D. C.

The commencement address was delivered by Honorable Frank W. Mondell, republican floor leader of the house of representatives. William Miller Collier, former ambassador to Spain, president of the university also addressed the graduates. Honorary degrees were conferred on a number of persons prominent in national affairs.

George Washington university, founded in 1821, celebrated its 100th anniversary this year with a graduating class of 233 students. The university is one of the seven or eight institutions of higher learning located in the nation's capital.

Mr. Johnson, son of Mrs. Katherine T. and the late Dr. Stephen J. Johnson, was a Carney medal scholar at the Lowell high school in 1917. His first year after leaving high school was spent at Georgetown university in Washington, the following year he was a student at Harvard university, and the last two years he attended George Washington university. He maintained a scholarship of unusual excellence at all institutions. Mr. Johnson will study medicine this fall, and his friends entertain high hopes for his future in the medical profession.

Mr. Johnson will spend part of the summer at his home in Lowell, and expects to undertake further study at the Harvard university summer school.

HELD ANNUAL OUTING AT WILLOW DALE

It was a merry crowd that left St. Patrick's boys' school in Suffolk street this morning, when the 22 young men, who will graduate at the school this month, boarded automobiles for Willow Dale where the annual outing of the graduating class was held. Nothing was spared to make the event one of the most elaborate and pleasing and Rev. Brother Eugene, who was in charge of arrangements, was well repaid for his efforts, for the affair was very successful in every respect.

The boys, "equipped" with baseball and other paraphernalia left the school shortly after 8 o'clock and sped over the road to Willow Dale, where the summer homes of the Idle Hour club and the Temple club had been placed at their disposal for the day. Outdoor events were enjoyed and the winners of the various contests were awarded suitable prizes.

A substantial dinner was served on the green where those participating were refreshed by the cool breeze from the lake. It was an ideal day for an outing and before leaving the resort for the homeward trip the boys gave three loud cheers for Brother Eugene and the members of the Idle Hour and Temple clubs.

Foreman and Ryan Hurt

Continued

The Country club, a short distance from the city.
Mr. Ryan, who was driving the car, said he went over the embankment when he lost control of the car while making a sharp turn. All three men were thrown head foremost among a pile of stones.

Commander Galbraith was to have left for Chicago early this morning on the first stop of a speaking tour in the interests of legislation before congress sponsored by the legion. He and Mr. Foreman, national committee man from Illinois, had been here attending a meeting of the national finance committee of the organization.

Mr. Galbraith's body was taken to the city morgue, where it will remain until removed to his home in Cincinnati.

Col. Galbraith was about 50 years old. He leaves a widow and two children, a boy about to enter college and a girl of 10 years. He was a prominent Rotarian.

ed national commander of the American Legion on Sept. 29 last. During the war he served in command of the
First Ohio National Guard at Camp Sheridan, Chillicothe. Subsequently he was transferred to the 147th infantry and embarked for overseas in June, 1918. By leading his regiment through the lines of the Germans under fire he won the title of "The Fighting colonel of the Fighting First."

As head of the American Legion he has been active in behalf of the organization in urging legislation favorable to ex-service men. His public addresses have been marked with forceful utterances against alleged mistreatment of wounded soldiers, and in defense of the legion's plan for their relief.

In civilian life Col. Galbraith was president of the Western Paper Goods
Co. of Cincinnati. He was a republican, but never actively engaged in politics and was never a candidate for public office. In Cincinnati, however, he was active in civic movements for more than 20 years.

As a youth the legion head was a sailor. He once passed the entrance examination to Annapolis, but never matriculated.

Known as "Sailor Ryan"

BOSTON, June 9.—Henry J. Ryan, national director of the American legion's Americanism commission, who was injured in the accident at Indianapolis in which National Commander Galbraith was killed early today, is widely known in New England as "Sailor" Ryan. His home is here.

Ryan was an ordinary seaman during the war, whose personality and speaking ability caused him to be assigned to recruiting tours. After serving as state chairman of the legion's Americanism commission, he was advanced to national director following the resignation of Col. Arthur Woods of New York, former assistant secretary of war.

BET ON COCKROACH RACES IN TURKEY

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 9.—Betting on cockroach races is one of the newest sports here. It was introduced by a Russian who has just opened a hall where a man who wants some real excitement for his money can get results.

The hall is darkened at the moment the race is to begin. Then a single electric light at the end of a runway is turned on, and the cockroaches, each in a separate track, are let loose from their cages to race for the light. More real, old-fashioned, non-professional sport may be had here than in any other city of Europe. This is due in part to the allied troops of occupation, to the American officers and sailors on station here, and the large number of American and British civilians who have come out for business since the armistice.

What the Russian refugees have done in the way of enlightening the city with concerts, dancing places and queer restaurants, the other allies have done in sporting lines.

In winter there is wild boar, duck and fox hunting. There is also, in and out of season, plenty of horseback riding over the dirt roads and unfenced stretches of upland country on both sides of the Bosphorus. Horse races are often held.

Both the British and the Americans have laid out golf courses. There are also a few tennis courts.

The troops and sailors within the city have taken charge of a large field near Taksim, in the center of Pera, and there play football and baseball matches. Yachting and swimming are commonplace sports open to all.

The Russians from the Black sea, who are accustomed to bathe naked, have increased the popularity of the beaches, especially a fine strip of sand on the Marmora north shore known as Florida. There, without let or hindrance, men, women and children, undress on the open beach and bathe in costumes that seem quite conventional here.

The Turks have contributed chicken fights to the international sports.

TAXICABS INVADE ROME

ROME, June 9.—Taxicabs have just invaded Rome. New, brightly painted vehicles similar to those of New York have just made their appearance, replacing as many horse-drawn cabs, which have held sway in the capital of the Caesars for centuries.

The taxicab, though welcomed with open arms by the general mass of Romans, has met for years a strong wall of opposition for the right to circulate in Roman streets. The 5000 cab drivers and livery men fought its use and warned the city administration they would be defeated at election if the taxicabs were admitted.

This opposition has in a measure been overcome but there still remains some cab drivers' prejudice against motor vehicles in their business. They have insisted that the chauffeurs be mainly recruited from the cab drivers.

TERRIBLE ECZEMA FOR 10 YEARS

No Trace Of The Disease Since Taking "Fruit-a-tives"

Dover, New Hampshire.

"In 1906, I began to be troubled with Eczema. My arms and legs were bandaged most of the time; and sometimes I could squeeze the pus out of my hands, they were so bad.

About 3 months ago, I chanced to read an ad. of 'Fruit-a-tives' and 'Sootha-Salva', in which was told of a person cured of Weeping Eczema by these remedies.

After using two boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives' and one box of 'Sootha-Salva'. I am entirely free of Eczema."

FOR TRAVELING

As July approaches, of course her thoughts turn to that vacation by motor, or if not by motor, one in which there will at least be many motor rides, and she needs must have a wrap which turns the dust. With this in mind, Irene Rich, Goldwyn actress, achieves travel smartness in this rubberized linen motor coat, handstitched in cream colored wool.

PERSPIRING HANDS

Perspiring hands are the cause of much annoyance to the home as well as the business woman. They are expensive, too, for they ruin more gloves than the average woman can afford to buy in a year.

A simple means of overcoming the excess perspiration, unless the cause is some deep-seated physical disorder, is the hot bath. Dip the palms of your hands into very hot water and after drying them rub them with a little boracic acid powder.

Alternating baths of hot and cold are also good. Put the palms in water as hot as can well be stood. Let them remain five minutes and then give them the cold bath.

A good lotion for perspiring hands can be made at home by combining a quart of water with 3/4 pint of wheat bran, 1 1/2 ounces of Epsom salts and two ounces of bay rum. The bay rum should be added after the other ingredients have been mixed and stood over night.

CARPET CLEANING

If the carpet must be cleaned at home, first beat it thoroughly and if you have a vacuum cleaner go over it with that. Then make a wad of cotton about the size of an apple. Cover it with linen and go over the carpet with this dipped in a 5 per cent boracic soap solution. If the colors are dulled sponge it in a weak acetic acid solution.

Kidney and Bladder Troubles HAVE TO GO

Clogged Up Kidney Deposits are Dissolved and the Toxins (Poisons) Completely Driven Out. Druggists Told to Guarantee it in Every Instance.

"Your very life," says Dr. Carey, "depends upon the perfect functioning and health of your kidneys so whatever you do don't neglect them." Dr. Carey's famous prescription No. 777, known as Marshroot, is not recommended for everything, but we cannot too strongly urge its use if you suffer from annoying bladder troubles, frequent passing of water night and day, with smarting or irritation, brick dust sediment or highly colored urine, bloating, irritability with loss of flesh, backache, rheumatism or any other tendency to Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Gravel, for kidney disease in its worst form may be stealing upon you. Don't wait until tomorrow to begin the use of this wonderful prescription if you have any of the above symptoms. Kidney and bladder troubles don't wear away. They will grow upon you slowly, stealthily and with unfailing certainty. Never mind the fallacies of the past if you even suspect that you are subject to Kidney Disease, don't lose a single day, for Fred Howard, 157 Central Street, Dover, New Hampshire, and every good druggist has been authorized to return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they have received no benefit. Adv.

What Angry Waters Did to Business District

At an early hour this morning long trains bore the Sells Floto circus out of Lowell. Later as the sun shone over the fair grounds small boys gathered to look upon the scene of the departed glories of yesterday and searched in accordance with time-honored custom, for any stray coins which might have been dropped on the ground by the hurrying crowds which visited the show.

If the Sells Floto show was not the best of its kind that has visited this city, it was one of the best. It had all of the familiar features of the old-time circus in abundance, and many of the acts had been dressed up to have something of the appearance of newness.

The menagerie, if not so large as some, was interesting and the animals appeared to be more than usually well-fed and sleek. In the menagerie tent, previous to the evening entertainment, the elephants were put through a course of stunts that attracted much attention. Never has such a collection of simians been seen in this section of the country as capered about in the big monkey cage.

Under the big top was the opening spectacle with its magic and riot of rich and changing colors, trapeze performing, bareback riding, tumbling, wire dancing, living statuary and a whole army of clowns.

perform family, with "Poodles" in the lead, furnished the star ring act, and at the evening performance were greeted with round after round of appreciative applause.

CARTRIDGE SHOP WILL CLOSE FOR TWO WEEKS

With the exception of the box shop all the departments of the United States Cartridge Co. will close from July 2 to 15, notices to that effect having been posted in the plant yesterday. The reason for the shut-down is the annual inventory.

Notices were also posted in all departments of the Lawrence Mfg. Co. yesterday to the effect that beginning this week and until further notice the entire mill will shut down Friday evenings. For some time past this mill has been operating three, four and five days a week, while some departments have been operating full time.

ATTEMPT TO PLAY JOKE ON HOSPITAL

If not the meanest man alive, one of his nearest relatives has been discovered. He attempted last night to play a joke on St. John's hospital and caused the hospital people much needless work and worry.

About 10:45 p. m. the hospital telephone bell rang and on the other end of the wire was someone who represented himself to be the manager of the Sells-Floto circus. It was stated that an assistant paymaster of the show had met with an accident on the show grounds and that one of his legs had been nearly severed from the body. It was requested that a doctor visit the grounds immediately and that a special room be reserved and two nurses held in readiness for service at the hospital. The emergency staff of the hospital was immediately mobilized ready for action and preparations were completed for the receipt of the expected patient. The ambulance, with Dr. Jos. Meehan, Sergt. Patrick Frawley and Driver James Gullin made a quick trip to the show grounds. Just before the ambulance left for the grounds a woman's voice speaking over the telephone gave information of the alleged accident to Driver Gullin and requested that all haste should be made in reaching the injured man. At the circus grounds inquiry was made of the Sells-Floto officials but no information could be obtained as to anyone having been seriously injured.

COASTER RIDE AT MERRIMACK PARK

"Forest Dips" is the name of the big coaster ride now in operation at Merrimack park and this wonderful riding device is said to be far superior to anything ever attempted or perfected in roller coaster rides in the country. It is the very latest type of model of coaster and has many new features and thrills which in addition to its great height and the actual distance traveled, which is said to be over a thousand seven hundred and ten feet from the starting point back to the unloading station, almost three-quarters of a mile riding distance, makes this ride not only the longest, but also the finest in New England today, and is the last word in safety, everything possible for the comfort of the public has been attended to and not the slightest detail has been overlooked in the construction of this great coaster. The park management announced many new and novel features being arranged for the great crowds that are being attracted to this new recreational centre. The Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. are building an extension track running parallel to the park for the convenience of park patrons and they will also put on special cars and ample service to take care of the many people who desire to visit this park and have also placed on sale a special round trip ticket for 25 cents from Lowell to the gates of the park. These tickets are now selling at Green's drug store, the Crown Confectionery and at the Day State show shining parlor.

formed by members of the Lowell Teachers' organization at its regular meeting in high school hall late yesterday afternoon. The council was organized as follows:

High school—Men, Morton Sturtevant; women, Miss Genevieve Lawrence, Miss Mabel Cassady.
Vocational school—James Gearon.
Continuation school—Thomas Ginty.
Kindergarten—Miss Helen Noyes.
Masters and principals—Henry H. Harris.
Primary—Miss Ellen Stillings, Miss Fannie Murphy, Miss Emma Graham, Miss Marie Bailey.
Grammar—Miss Charlotte Walsh,

Miss Caroline Downey, Miss Kathleen Driscoll, Miss Rose Geary, Miss Minnie Gray, Miss Mary Lane.

Miss Caroline A. Downey presided at the meeting. It was voted to dedicate a page in the records to the memory of the late Laura H. Palmer, for many years a teacher in the Kirk and West Sixth street schools. There were also many expressions of regret over the death of Michael J. Lynch and John J. Walker. The elementary school teachers were asked to be at St. Peter's church Friday morning at 9.45 to attend Mr. Walker's funeral mass. The annual reports of the president, secretary and treasurer were read and approved. It was voted to amend the constitution to provide for an enlargement of the personnel of the visiting committee.

It was announced that senate bill No. 203, giving teachers who retired before June, 1920, the same minimum allowance as those who have retired since that time, had been signed and would become law Aug. 28.

MAYOR'S POWER CONSIDERED IN ITS VARIOUS FORMS

His Functions Purely Executive and Not Autocratic---The Veto Power---Appointments and Removals---The Budget and Making of Contracts

The powers to be vested in the mayor under the new charter have been the subject of much discussion. In the following article from the charter commission, these powers are fully explained and shown to be reasonable and in general well guarded against any line of action that might be considered arbitrary.

Duties and Powers of the Mayor
Section 43--Provides that all executive power now vested in the city council shall hereafter be vested in and exercised by the mayor. The mayor may suspend or remove from office the administrative heads of departments subject to the provisions of section 30, which means that such suspensions or removals are subject to review by the city council, which may confirm the action of the mayor, or reinstate the official suspended or removed. Temporary appointments may be made by the mayor to offices made vacant by resignation, death, suspension or removal without being subject to confirmation by the city council. Such temporary appointments, however, shall be in effect only for the period of time allowed for the filling of notice of demand for and during a public hearing before the city council, and pending a decision thereon, or in other cases, pending confirmation by the city council of a permanent appointment.

All nominations made by the mayor and subject to confirmation by the city council shall be acted upon by the council within a period of thirty days. If no action is taken by the city council within thirty days, the mayor shall withdraw said nomination and file another nomination, either of the person first nominated or a different person. It is provided, however, that the mayor shall not nominate any person more than twice in the same year for the same office.

The Veto Power
The mayor is vested with a veto power on all orders, resolutions or votes passed by the city council, except the budget submitted by the mayor, votes upon questions of confirmation of nominations, and votes directing heads of departments to appear before the city council. He has ten days to consider any vote, order or resolution presented to him. If he approves, he shall sign; if he disapproves, he may return said order or resolution to the city council with his objections thereon in writing; but if he fails to return the order or resolution to the city council within ten days with his written objections, it shall be deemed approved and in force without further action. If the city council, notwithstanding the written disapproval by the mayor, shall again pass the order or resolution by a two-thirds vote, it shall be in force, but the veto thereon must be taken within thirty days. Failure to act within thirty days upon any order or resolution returned by the mayor with his objections thereto, shall make valid the objection of the mayor, and said order or resolution shall not be in force. No increase in salary or wages of any subordinate official or employee shall take effect unless approved by the mayor.

The Budget
Not later than sixty days after the beginning of the municipal year, the mayor shall transmit to the city council a budget of expenditures required for the year. The city council shall consider the recommendations as submitted in the budget, and make therefrom the annual appropriations for departments, and may reduce or reject any item, but without the approval of the mayor shall not increase any item in or of the total of the budget, nor add any item thereto. The mayor shall cause a complete audit and examination of books and accounts of the city to be made annually.

Vacancy in Mayor's Office
If a vacancy occurs in the office of mayor, prior to the last six months of his term, the city council shall order a special election to fill the unexpired term. If a vacancy occurs in the office of mayor, during the last six months of his term, the president of the council shall succeed thereto for the remainder of the term. If the mayor is absent or temporarily unable for any cause to perform his duties, they shall be performed by the president of the council, who shall for the time being be designated "acting mayor." He shall possess the power of mayor only in matters not admitting of delay, and shall have no power to make permanent appointments. If the head of a department is temporarily unable for any cause to perform his duties, the mayor may designate without confirmation by the city council a temporary appointee.

From the wording of the above section it will be seen that the mayor shall exercise purely executive power. He may suspend or remove heads of

The drawing for the prizes offered with the recent carnival conducted by Billerica post, 115, American Legion, took place at a recent joint meeting of the post and the Ladies' auxiliary and the winners are as follows:
Five-dollar gold piece, men's table, won by Russell Casey, Lowell; lunch set, fancy table, Miss Edith Mears, North Billerica; embroidered pillow cases, fancy table, John McSweeney, North Billerica; library table, Mrs. Edith Collins, North Billerica; embroidered towels, fancy table, Mrs. Isabel Cronin, 679 Chestnut street, Lowell; crown and chain, fancy table, Dan-pendant and chain, Mrs. Edith Collins, North Billerica; 139 A street, Lowell. There were 5093 beans in the jar and Mr. Smith's guess was 5103.
The total net profit realized was in excess of $1050. The fancy table set, $277; apron table, $215; candy, $97; grab, $55; refreshments, $113, while the balance was credited to the men's table and the sale of tickets.

CYCLES AND AUTO CRASH
An automobile operated by Samuel Dumont of Woburn street collided with two motorcycles at the junction of Lawrence and Wamslett streets last evening shortly before 7 o'clock. The automobile was being driven through Lawrence street while the two motorcycles were going down Wamslett street into Lawrence street, when the crash occurred. No one was injured and the machines were but slightly damaged.

OUTDOOR CARNIVAL
Everything is in readiness for the outdoor carnival to be conducted this evening on the grounds of the Highland Congregational church under the auspices of the Lowell Christian Endeavor union. MALNUTRITION AMONG
CHILDREN OF RICH

BOSTON, June 9.—The American people are suffering up with the crowd in one of the chief causes of fatigue and mental depression among children. In the opinion of Dr. Borden S. Veeder of St. Louis, this condition, Dr. Veeder declared, was more common among the children of the wealthy than in the homes of the poor.

Other physicians addressing the section on diseases of children of the American Medical association which is meeting here, agreed with Dr. Veeder's conclusions.

Elimination of too frequent dances, parties and movie shows, together with insistence on extra rest periods, had brought about rapid improvement in the condition of many of his child patients, Dr. Veeder said. He added that fatigue and malnutrition often were not due to physical exertion, overwork or over study, nor to a lack of sufficient amount of proper food so much as to the complexity of modern life.

Forty per cent. of the rich children examined by Dr. C. H. Johnson of Grand Rapids, Mich., showed evidence of malnutrition while among the poor only about 20 per cent. showed such indications.

MOTHER GOOSE A HEALTHY

How many little children, and grownups too, have ever stopped to think as they read the stories of "The Piper's Son, Jack and Jill, or Little Bo Peep" that the "Mother Goose" was not an imaginary personage as is so commonly supposed—but a real live lady. "Mother Goose" was born in Charlestown, Mass., April 5, 1655 and died in Boston at a good old age. Her memory nevertheless still lives in the heart of nearly every English speaking child in America today and a song from Mother Goose has soothed more broken hearts and dried more childish tears than any other melody ever written. As a young lady (then Miss Elizabeth Foster) she married a man by the name of "Verdugo" and "so to them were born six little children. Mrs. Goose, as the children jokingly would call her, used to entertain and amuse them by humming the songs of "Little Jack Horner," "Mary Had a Little Lamb" and many others. Over and over again she would sing them while her little family crowded around her and in ecstasy would sing along "just one more." Her popularity as an entertainer grew rapidly among children, until she became quite famous and the collection of nursery rhymes known as "Mother Goose" melodies was collected by her first publicity agent—her son-in-law, the late Thomas Fleet at his printing house, Pudding Lane, 1719, in the 17th century. And now after two hundred years, Ralph Mayhew and Burgess Johnson have reviewed all the Old Mother Goose melodies and have assembled them in a very attractive collection of children's books known as the "Bubble Books that sing." In them are all the old nursery rhymes that children love so dearly and know so well with a dear little record that "no matter how young a child may be, they can play it. On Friday afternoon at 4:15 and Saturday afternoon at 4 there will be a Bubble Book party given under the personal direction of Mrs. Beulah N. Grace of New York city at the Chalfont company. Twenty of Lowell's children will take part. The scenery and costumes have been brought from New York and for one hour children may take a delightful trip to the land of make-believe and the grownups will have an opportunity of renewing the friends of their youth. Everybody invited. Victoria Salon, fourth floor.

wanting. Even when the wheels of industry have slowed down, bringing about economic stress, this cosmopolitan citizenship of ours, comprising twenty-nine distinct groups, has shown to the world an example of law-abiding and peaceful conduct. Lowell has proved herself the model textile city of the globe. Secondly, as a trustee of this school, I can welcome you not only as a representative of the greatest textile city in the world, but as a representative of the greatest textile school in the world.

"We feel that we are accomplishing something here in Lowell. These young men are prepared to face life's battle. There is a beautiful legendary river in Greece, which flows into the Mediterranean, but it is not of it. It flows through that sea, to the tale goes, taking only the good things from the waters of that inner ocean, casting the bad aside, until it bubbles on the other shore as a clear and beneficent fountain. Young men, when you go out into the world, like this river, take only the best, and when you reach the other shore, reach it with a wholesome, clean, upright record."

The Magical Chance

Dr. Sharp, who is professor of English at Boston university, and an author of note, delivered an address on the theme, "The Magical Chance," in which he lauded the workingman as "the hope of the world," and decried the selfishness of the rich who would grind him down. "The whole world has got to have more wages," he declared, taking pronounced issue with the pundits who have recently called on the working classes to accept reductions, "as their patriotic duty." "More wages for the workers have got to come, even though we be overwhelmed by the horrible, shocking, almost indecent wealth of the laboring man. When a man's pay envelope is mortgaged before he receives it, a change is inevitable, despite this silly cry of high wages having been overdone. The workingman is the hope of the world." It was at this point that the doctor bitterly condemned "one of the four wealthiest men in the world," for not paying his chauffeur enough money to send his children to the high school. "Miss Perry," referring to Richard Henry Dana, author of one of the greatest sea stories in all the world, "Two Years Before the Mast," said "Life offered this boy his magical chance." Dana, afflicted with eye trouble, shipped as a common seaman to go around the world on the big "Albatross." The boy received his human chance, and the boy took it. There was something in this boy for which cultured Boston—he was even born in the Back Bay—and Harvard left no place in its decorously conventional scheme. He would never have written his great book had he remained in Harvard.

"There is a direct question which I wish to put to you young men, and it is 'Where do you go from here?' Does life hold out to you, as it did to Dana, a magical chance? If we shipped on a vessel today, and sailed around to the West coast, we would discover, not adventure, but the most conventional city in the world, San Francisco, where the natives not only sleep and eat, but die and are buried in their dress suits."

"Thoreau sought adventure by getting into a rowboat and rowing up the Merrimack river. Finally he cried 'There are no frontiers this way.' He had reached Concord, N. H. 'This generation has come into the world fatally late' continued the New England anchorite, 'fatally late for some enterprises.' This generation, he realized, could not get up and last house in Astoria city. If Thoreau's generation was fatally late, yours is more so. Can you do anything great and original like 'Two Years Before the Mast'?"

When they struck gold in California, Bret Hart could write 'The Luck of Roaring Camp,' and when they struck it on the Yukon, Jack London wrote one of the greatest short stories in all the world, 'Building a Fire.' Well, when the next war comes, will all be doing it in any way. One bomb will kill everyone in Lowell, and the next bomb will destroy Lawrence. We needn't care, however, for Perry has discovered the North pole, and someone else the South, and what is the use of living in a world where both poles have been discovered? Where is there to go where frontiers and adventure may be found?"

Preserving the Desert

Dr. Sharp told of the citizens of Arizona petitioning the national congress to preserve a portion of their original desert. "We're turning the desert into cowfolds," he declared. "People who now cross the continent are doing it in automobiles, and all they think of is getting to San Diego on time. There is never a chance for adventure if we always make life's connections. Ah, there are no frontiers anywhere. John Masfield laments the passing of the clipper ship, as Thoreau lamented."

"But even Moses was fatally late—Miss Masfield. Moses' position was not particularly enviable. He was a goatherd for his father-in-law on the back side of a desert. What a combination! Moses probably mused over the old writings and thought of the days when 'the sons of God looked upon the daughters of men.' 'Oh,' quoth Moses, 'there was something doing in those days.'"

None Born Too Late

"Ah, but Moses, Thoreau, Masfield were not born fatally late. None of us are. There is a new frontier with every sunset. Night offers us romance, adventure, escape from the cares of the day. He is just as much young and adventuresome in your faces as there was in the countenance of Moses; for Moses finally went forth and had a great adventure. I took a piece of carefully cultivated earth recently, and in its breast I painstakingly planted tomato seeds. But that earth brought forth every variety of weed, luxuriously, riotously. I gave that lump of earth its magical chance, and it took it. Isaac Watts says in one of his hymns 'Lord, we are vile!' He knew what he was talking about. The same old Adam is in us today as at the beginning, and this is well. It is well to know that we have the same potentialities for adventure as always. The world was never so full of magical chances as it is today. I see, every day, chances to have wild adventure, to sidestep the conventional. Browning said 'A man's reach must be greater than his grasp. Don't give up dreaming. We are all dreamers at heart.' I went over two new books of John Burroughs with him before his death, and those books are not yet off the press. At $1 that man wrote three of his most significant books within a year. What was it that drew Edison, Ford, Firestone to his bier? Henry Ford told me the answer: 'Burroughs was always fresh, always having adventures, seeing life in a new way. Do you cease dreaming?'

Here the speaker made a strong appeal for the eight-hour day. The working man must have leisure "to reach out," he said. He drew a parallel between a skunk who got his head stuck in a tin can and was drowned thus, and the man who leaves school and goes into a shop, and "sticks" his head into a tin can from which only death will release it."

Gift to School

Prior to the receiving of the diploma, Class President Washburn announced the gift of 1921 to the school as being a section of the fence around the athletic field. "In 1911 this tradition ceased with the coming of the war," he said, "but we take it up." In accepting for the school President James said: "This gift is not all we accept. What we prize even more highly is the spirit of loyalty to the school which these sections of the class fence symbolize." In delivering his address to the graduates, the president recalled the day, "When you stood in this hall and answered your country's call. We honor you for that."

The Class Officers

The class officers are: President, J. Milton Washburn, of Lowell, a graduate of Lowell high school, class of '17; vice president Eric T. L. Laurin, also

HOW TO REDUCE VARICOSE VEINS

Many people have become dependent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunched. If you will get a two-ounce original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) at any first class drug store and apply it at home as directed you will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunched are reduced to normal. Moone's Emerald Oil is a very concentrated and a bottle lasts a long time—that's why it is a most inexpensive treatment. It has brought much comfort to worried people all over the country and is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years and always bear in mind that anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded. # THE LOWELL SUN

JOHN H. HARRINGTON, Proprietor
SUN BUILDING, MERRIMACK SQUARE, LOWELL, MASS.
Member of the Associated Press

The Associated Press is authorized to use for publication of all news dispatches received by it or its branches credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

A LONG-DELAYED STEP

It is a cause for satisfaction that, after months of urging by The Sun, it now seems probable that the municipal council is to take some steps toward performing its duties as set forth in the city charter by taking a hand in the direction of the street department. The statement is made with apparent authority that a more or less extensive change in the administrative organization of the department is to be made. Let it be remembered, however, that it is useless to remove inefficient men unless better men are put in their places.

It is unfortunate that the impression has seemed to prevail in the past, that civil service laws could be made effective to protect officials who have grown careless in the performance of their duties as a result of feeling that it was beyond the power of anybody to turn them out of office.

All that it was ever intended the civil service protection should afford to anyone was that it should be made difficult to remove officials of proved capability who were rendering faithful and efficient service. It is not as easy as it once was to remove municipal employees who have become loafers on their jobs, and insolent in their attitude of disregard for the duties they are paid to perform, they can still be removed where there is a determination on the part of officials elected by the people to see that the public is efficiently served and its money economically spent.

The city charter provides very plainly a way in which appointed officials who have reached the conclusion that they are secure for life in the enjoyment of an income from the city and who have proved themselves utterly unsatisfactory as public servants, can be reached and ousted and their places filled with men who will serve the public with greater faithfulness and efficiency.

Much of the unpopularity attaching to the civil service laws in the public mind is due to the common belief that no matter how unfit or worthless an official might prove after his appointment, there was no practical way in which to get his name off the public payroll. This common belief has been largely due to the cowardice of elected officials who have condoned the shortcomings of subordinates rather than incur the possible odium of offending them and their friends by placing upon them the condemnation they deserved.

It will be among not the least of the achievements of this somewhat remarkable year in Lowell's political history, if some steps be taken to serve notice on unprovable public servants that civil service laws cannot keep them perpetually in the city's employ regardless of the value of their services to the city.

There have been few more courageous members of the municipal council than Street Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy, and there can be little doubt that any move to place the work of his department in efficient and willing hands will have his full support. In reputation, at least, he has been one of the principal sufferers from the shortcomings of a few of his subordinates.

It should not be supposed, though, that the street department is the only one in which reform is needed. It is safe to assume, too, that if the situation is handled with a firm hand there will be general improvement of morale in the whole staff of city employees.

AS TO CRIMINAL LIABILITY

In common with many others we have often wondered why the courts do not hold auto speedsters criminally liable when while violating the speed laws, they kill persons on the public highways.

Of course, we are not lawyers and may be mistaken in reasoning from analogy, but we believe that when an autoist disregards the restraints of law, he is engaged for public safety, he should be held criminally liable for the consequences in case he kills any person while running at the forbidden rate of speed.

We are confirmed in this belief by a decision given in a New York court to the effect that when a person keeps alcohol for other than medicinal purposes, and an explosion results, he is criminally liable, according to a ruling by Police Magistrate Short of Brooklyn. Where an autoist drives at the rate of thirty miles an hour where the speed limit is fifteen and a fatality results, why is he not criminally liable? We have had scores of fatalities in this city resulting from auto accidents and in several of them, it appeared that the speed limit had been exceeded. Yet the courts cleared the drivers of all criminal liability, whereas had said drivers kept within the speed limit, they could have avoided the accident which caused the fatalities. The oversteering caused an accident; the accident caused a death; but there was found no criminal negligence, no liability on which the driver could be held for manslaughter. If a burglar while in the act of robbing a dwelling, shoots somebody in order to effect his escape, he is charged with first degree murder. We do not wish to put the auto speedster in the same class, but we do say that he should be held criminally liable for causing death, if at the time of the accident he was driving at a rate of speed forbidden by law.

Until this principle of law is applied to the auto driver involved in accidents, there will be no lessening in the number of fatalities resulting from reckless driving on the highways.

FIGHT OVER NEW BRIDGE

We are in receipt of a letter from Mayor Seales of the "young" city of Westfield, complaining of what he sternly claims to be a very unjust arrangement for apportioning the expense of constructing a bridge over the Connecticut river between Springfield and West Springfield. Mayor Seales states that the legislature having set no limit to the cost of the bridge, the estimated cost of the revised plans is $2,000,000, about twice more than originally estimated. His Honor bluntly charges Speaker Young with trying to promote his political fortunes by having the cost of the bridge distributed over communities to which the structure will bring no benefit whatever.

The city of Westfield, according to the statement of her mayor, is ten miles distant from the bridge and has two other bridges which offer more convenient passage to the points to be connected by the new bridge. Nevertheless, Westfield under the present arrangement will have to pay perhaps $200,000 as her part of the cost of building a bridge that will benefit only her neighboring cities. It is as if Lowell were obliged to help pay for the Tyngsboro bridge across the Merrimack or a bridge across the Concord river above Billerica. Under the circumstances, we believe the mayor of Westfield has good cause to complain. Furthermore, it is a bad precedent to establish to have a commission authorized to build a bridge without limiting the expense.

The commission appointed in 1915 under the act which authorized the bridge, devoted most of its time to laying out and replanning the structure. Very little attention was given to the matter of apportioning the cost. After the hearing on the question of apportionment, the commission changed the location, and adopted a plan much more expensive and then changed the apportionment without giving a hearing to the communities affected. Thus it seems Mayor Seales is doubly justified in complaining of the action of the commission as arbitrary and the apportionment, so far as Westfield is concerned, an imposition that can hardly be justified in law.

WHO HOLDS UP FOOD PRICES?
It is announced that the price of food has undergone a very considerable reduction; but somehow the housewife cannot see much confirmation of this statement in the prices she is to pay for her table supplies. It is to be noted that wholesale prices have been quite radically reduced but nevertheless the retail price is not lowered in like proportion.

The disparity is sometimes rather surprising and it has been discussed in the press all over the country without bringing a satisfactory explanation. Even congress has been asked to find out how it is, that the farmer gets only 35 cents for every dollar his products bring when sold to the ultimate consumer. A special congressional commission has been proposed by concurrent resolution to inquire into this very matter. Mr. C. S. Barrett, head of the National Board of Farm Organization, is strongly in favor of this inquiry and feels it will accomplish much good if enacted and its purposes carried out. This commission should be able to find out why it is that farm products are sold at three times as much as the farmer receives for them. Possibly such a commission might be able to discover a profiteering middleman somewhere or else an unwillingness on the part of some retailers to be satisfied with a fair profit.

FIRE HAZARDS
These are times when it is necessary to be extremely cautious in guarding against fires; and it is equally necessary to be well prepared to handle any fire that may occur. In this, as in other matters in which life and property are involved, there is often a total lack of precaution.

Our farmers and foresters complain that campers and hunters are responsible for many fires that sweep valuable timberlands and sometimes destroy many buildings. In buildings in which many people congregate there are often a total lack of the ordinary precautions for the protection of the occupants in case of fire. A striking instance of this came to light in a fire that occurred in a seven-story apartment house in Charleston on Sunday evening. Sparks from a nearby chimney started a fire on the upper floor and when the fire department arrived, the men found no light man or clerk in charge, no power on the elevator, and no protection whatever for the occupants if cut off by fire on the upper floors. The house had been run as a hotel but at night there was nobody in charge to sound the gong or otherwise notify the guests of their danger.

It would be interesting to find how many apartment houses in Lowell are left in that state, namely, at night without a clerk or watchman, and without any night business it is to notify the occupants in case of fire. Perhaps they might be within the province of the firemen to investigate local conditions in this respect.

Secretary Weeks thinks that it is unthinkable that we should fight England, and let us hope that he thinks right, but why England more than any other country that has contributed to our cosmopolitan population and national life?

While other nations are worrying about their national debts, Uncle Sam can lean complacently back in his chair and feel comfortably assured that both his debtors and creditors are his own sons and daughters.

Mrs. C. Marshall Forrest thinks that the Charles W. Morse school "has always been considered the best in the city," but where all are so excellent, can there be a "best"?

Babe Ruth has spent one day in jail for auto speeding, which is one day more than most of our local speedsters get in the rare instances in which they fall into the hands of the police.

What a joyous world this would be if all nations were of the dimensions of that of the supreme court, which lasts from early June to October 1st.

It is announced that the railroads are to cut rates on melons, which, from the stockholders' point of view, is very different from cutting melons.

SEEN AND HEARD

After vacation—what?

"Made in Germany": Preparations, depredations, reparations.

Feathered footwear worn in Paris. Should be popular with highfliers.

A steplike painter gets on in life by starting at the top and working down.

Even the birds would have accidents if they tried to do acrobatics in the air.

The more successful your backyard garden, the lower the price of vegetables.

If that Pops-Winnecke comet gets a good look at world conditions, it probably won't return again.

Russian princesses are working as typists in Nika. But we'll bet they could sell a bundle alongside some American princess-typists.

French wine interests are planning to conduct an anti-prohibition campaign in the United States. Do they really fear the country might go dry?

Addressing girl graduates at Lake Forest, Ill., the orator stated that men want as wives girls with understanding and sympathy. Usually, the more understanding, the less sympathy.

Shocking Discovery

A little boy, the youngest member of a large family, was taken to see his married sister's new baby. He seemed more interested in the contents of the baby's basket than in the baby, and after examining several pretty trinkets, picked up a powder puff. Much surprised at this discovery, and looking quite shocked, he said: "Isn't she rather young for that sort of thing?"

Baiting the Price

An impossible person approached the secretary of his club. "I want your advice, sir," he said. "I have been deliberately lashed by one of the members. I was sitting in the smoking room when Col. came up to me and said without preamble: 'Sir, I will give you $100,000 to resign and your membership in this club.' Now what ought I to do in the matter?" "It is perfectly obvious, sir," said the relieved secretary with alacrity. "Hold on for a better offer."

An Unusual Visitor

The darling little baby had just reached that age when he could, an accomplishment in which he indulged most of the time. And probably his mother was telling the tale of his accomplishment to "the most welcome visitor I ever had," she said, giving him a smacking kiss. "He just lies and talks to me by the hour, don't you, baby? Don't 'oo tell mother everything?" The baby cooed obligingly, and mother's friend replied: "Isn't that nice! So unlike other visitors—they just talk and lie to you by the hour!"

Sally Lunn Run

The Run called the Sally Lunn originated with a young woman of that name at Bath, England, about the end of the last century. She carried them in a basket, with a white cloth over it, morning and evening. Dalmier, a respectable baker and musician, noticed her, bought her business, made a song and set it to music in behalf of Sally Lunn. The first competition was the most famous of the cakes. Dalmier profited thereby and retired, and to this day the Sally Lunn cake claims pre-eminence in all the cities of England.

Staying Power

A fragile thing you seemed to me in frock of flimsy white. When I was introduced to you, And fell in love at sight. And yet you danced till half-past five.

From nine, or was it eight? And mugged at me because I felt Like nothing on a plate.

Your form is of the slenderest. Ethereal your face. And yet you journeyed to the sales And fought to keep your name. You tramped about from shop to shop.

And urged in self-defense. You bought a dinky evening frock Reduced by eighteen pence.

You look so delicate, my dear. And frail as any flower. And yet it seems to me you have Tremendous staying power. Your feet are tireless in their quest of gaily and thrills.

Your tongue—ah, yes, I fancied so. I hear you talking still! —DONOVAN ROSE, in Royal Magazine, London.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

George F. Wells, secretary-manager of the chamber of commerce was in the city last week seeking information relative to where the chamber should file its street initiative petition when the desired number of signatures were secured. For some time there was more or less question as to whether the petition should go to the city clerk or to the board of election commissioners. Mr. Wells was discussing the matter with the election commissioners and Representative Henry Achen happened to be among those present. "Why don't you put the petitions in an envelope and address them to 'Whom It May Concern, City Hall,' and then you can get the clerk to send them to the proper authorities," suggested the representative. The laugh went up and could be heard all over city hall basement. That petition concerns a very large number of people.

The Falls-Polo circus attracted a larger crowd than was expected. Indeed it was somewhat of a surprise to find such a large attendance at a time when business is dull and a great many people unemployed. It was noticeable also that the small section of the great tent which was empty was not the reserve seat section but that of the lowest price seats. That is another proof that the people want to be entertained and are willing to pay for it. By the way, I may say also, that the Falls-Polo circus presents a decidedly clean show with several new features and all the best of their kind. I noticed, however, that there was but slight patronage for the midway features outside the big canvas; and the various stands offering hot dogs, pink lemonade and ice cream, come hardly made enough to pay for the parking. The circus is, however, evidently feeling that they had gone there to see the circus, not to practice for the Fourth of July. The Falls-Polo circus has for press agent Mr. E. F. Fournier, a well known newspaperman, who served as American correspondent in France during the war. He stated that the circus has been through the country with the circus he feels that there are cities more seriously affected by the business depression than are the textile cities of New England. Lowell, he says, is a busy place compared to some other cities he has visited.

ADMIT MANY BREAKS

8 Youths, Who Banded Themselves Into Mysterious Order of Black Cross Arrested

NEW YORK, June 9.—Eight youths, ranging in age from 9 to 11, who had banded themselves into the mysterious order of the Black Cross, were arrested today and confessed to having participated in at least 20 holdups and robberies which have terrorized certain sections of Bronx for the past five months. Children were generally the victims, the youthful bandits lying in wait for them as they left stores on errands, and robbing them of whatever change they had. Members of the gang were generally a black cross, which they had roughly tattooed on their wrists in a tumble down shack which they made their rendezvous. One of the gang, who boasted of his power at having a "washed brick" through a store window, so that others could wriggle through and rob the place of its choicest stock of candy, stationery and electrical supplies, became the recognized leader. He was allowed to pick a circle around the cross on his arm.

WILL OBSERVE FEAST OF ST. ANTHONY

All arrangements are completed for the observance of the feast of St. Anthony next Sunday, by the members of the Italian society, San Antonio. The affair will consist of a brief street parade, followed by a church service and luncheon and entertainment at the rooms of the society, at the close of the service. The members of the society, headed by the Messini brass band, will leave their hall at 121 Summer street, at 10:30 o'clock, and will march to St. Peter's church, 10 South Middlesex and Gorham streets. Pews will be reserved at the 11 o'clock mass at St. Peter's, and the sermon will be by the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. J. Keleher. At the close of the mass, ranks will be reformed and the marchers will repair to their hall via the same route and special exercises will be held. The principal speaker to be Rev. Dr. Keleher. There will also be remarks by officers and members of the society, and luncheon will be served.

RAIN OF YELLOW DUST AT DAWSON

DAWSON, Y. T., June 9.—A rain of grey yellow dust was on the ground today and chemists were preparing to analyze the substance to determine what matter other than water the clouds had taken to carrying about with them. The substance was declared by some to be sulphur, picked up by the clouds from some volcano in the unexplored north. Others said it was pollen from the pine trees of less strenuous climates that had found a lodging place in the mists and was transported here.

ANCHORAGE RESIGNS

RECOGNITION OF MEXICO PRES. HARDING

France Would Welcome Plan But Recognizes Interest of U. S. Greater

PARIS, June 9.—When their attention was called today to the news of Secretary of State Hughes to President Obregon of Mexico, French officials, who were generally glad to welcome general recognition of any stable government but recognized that the interests of the United States were even greater. France, therefore, the officials said, would avoid any action that would risk embarrassment to the United States in its treatment of the Mexican question.

185 HOUSES DESTROYED IN MARTIAL LAW AREA

LONDON, June 9. (By the Associated Press).—Houses to the total of 185 have been destroyed in the martial law area in the north of Ireland since Jan. 1 of this year by official order. Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, stated in the house of commons today in answer to a question.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatre's Own Press Agents "WAY DOWN EAST"

COMING MONDAY

Seats are now on sale for the big picture production of "Way Down East," which D. W. Griffith is to send to the B. F. Keiths theatre next Monday afternoon for a special engagement. The picture is a large-scale production, which has furnished music for the picture from the very first.

The production to be shown here is the one that has been running in the Tremont temple all season and will be accompanied by a large orchestra. The picture is a large-scale production, which has furnished music for the picture from the very first.

"Way Down East" is not a mere expanding of the stage play of the same name, but a new production. It is a story of a girl who is turned out into a terrible storm in a pathetic figure, and she is rescued by a man who helps her on an ice floe, drifting toward a menacing fall, there is a thrill that gets each onlooker in its grip. In the nick of time she is saved from death and she goes on to give a coming forth in overwhelming applause. Lillian, Glavin, in the leading role, has achieved a success that at once has made her a star of the American actresses. Richard Barthelemy, Mrs. Morgan Belmont, a social leader, Creighton Hale, Kate Bruce, Vivian Ogden, Mary Gray, McIntosh, George Seville, Edgar Nelson, Lowell Sherman, Porter Strong, Florence Short and others are seen. As usual with a Griffith production, there is a theme score played by a large orchestra, and the music is a succession of delightful melodies and impressive compositions, accentuating each situation. Special lighting and mechanical effects, devised and invented by Griffith, add to effectiveness.

RIALTO THEATRE
Conway Tearle in "Marooned Hearts," a National picture which shows the folly of making sacrifices to gratify whims, will be the attraction for the last three days of the week at the Rialto theatre. Tearle, playing the role of Dr. Paul Carrington, gives promise of becoming the world's foremost surgeon, but he is handicapped by the love of Marlene, who insists that he devote more of his time to her and less to his practice. The climax comes when the girl intercepts a note calling upon the doctor to perform a difficult operation, so that he may accompany her on a boating trip.

NEW LAKEVIEW PARK
Free vaudeville at Lakeview is one of the attractions of this week-end. The vaudeville acts will be given every afternoon and evening. Their work is a real treat, and the big dance orchestra of ten pieces plays pleasing programs for dancing under direction of Professor Agnew. Dancing at Lakeview is different. The other attractions continue to please thousands of patrons.

B. F. KEITHS THEATRE
The present is the concluding week of vaudeville at the B. F. Keiths theatre, and Manager Pickett has supplied a bill of excellence for patrons. Craig Campbell, one of the best of the younger American tenors, is the headliner of the bill, and he gives an exceptionally fine program of numbers, one of which will make instant appeal. Kane and Herman in their comedy sketches provide much laughter, while Archer & Bedford in "The New Janitor," are really good entertainers. Others on the week's bill are: Cook & Gaitan, song delineators; Ester and Squier in "Dance Scenarios"; Elvick & Jenney, roller skaters; and Beatrice Doane, singer.

TIN STRAND
If you haven't seen Mr. George Arliss in "The Devil," which is being shown on the week's bill at the Strand, then be sure and avail yourself of the remaining opportunities in which the star is seen in most commendable work. His portrayal of the devil is surely the work of an artist.

The presentation of this wonder film is an original production, presented by Charles Barton, late with the Lowell Players, and directed by Beaumont Newhall, a well known resident manager. Samuel Torgan is responsible for the arrangements and carrying through of this feature. It is a most enjoyable novelty in motion picture circles in this city.

"It Isn't Being Done This Season," adapted from a story by the same name and in which Miss Corinne Griffith is starred, is the other feature contribution to the week-end bill. Starting with matinees today, it is a sensational drama of adventure and romance in New York and Smyrna, and contains many tense situations, which provide Miss Griffith with excellent opportunity to display her acting talents. The star also wears some wonderfully handsome gown creations. The rest of the bill is rounded out with a good comedy and musical. It's always cool and comfortable.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
"Mother of Mine," latest release from the Theatre Trusts, is the feature attraction at the Merrimack Square theatre for the week-end. This is a truly wonderful story and photoplay, fully measuring up to "The Lion," in its artistic value and even outstripping it in the poignant appeal of its gripping story. Perhaps no photoplay recently released has combined so many of the best leading roles. Miss Linder in her latest comedy success, "Seven Years' Bad Luck," is the other feature of the current program. The Merrimack Square also has a short comedy round out the program.

PEACE BY STATES

WASHINGTON, June 9.—President Harding, delivering a commencement address yesterday at American university here, found world peace occupying so prominent a place on the program that he departed from his prepared manuscript and declared for preservation of peace by sovereign states, without the interference of a world "super-power."

Newton W. Rowell, K.C., of Toronto, had suggested that the best contribution North America could make to civilization was "for men on this side of the water" to stand together behind the movement for a peaceful settlement of international disputes. Ambassador Jusserand, the French ambassador, also touched on the peace question.

"An international anthem," to the tune of "America" and "God Save the King," recounting how the two nations by the sea, two nations great and free, one anthem raise."

The president, in beginning his address, gave assent to Dr. Rowell's words and said:

"I have said on many occasions that if all the nations of the earth were as honest and unselfish as our republic, there never would be another war. I will revise it today and say that if all the nations of the earth are as unselfish and devoted to their ideals as the United States and Canada, there never will be another war."

"If I may say so without a discordant note—for there is none in my belief—I call attention to the fact that the United States of America and the Dominion of Canada have dwelt side by side and settled their controversies satisfactorily without resort to a super-power, but by the exercise of the sovereignty of free peoples dealing with one another."

"If we can commit civilized humanity to adding righteousness and everlasting justice and inspire them with our example we will have made a long stride toward the peace of the world."

With that Mr. Harding plunged into his prepared address, in which he enjoined the graduates all over the United States to dedicate themselves to the task of restoring stability in a world where "almost nothing" remains secure from the attacks of iconoclasts. Humanity, he said, never before had such need of sober, unselfish leadership.

GOVERNOR'S TRIBUTE TO GALBRAITH

DARLING BABY

BRIGHTENS HOME

Children's Laughter a Pleasing Sound

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. We had six children die almost at birth. From one hour to nineteen days is all they have lived. Before my next one was born I took a dozen bottles of your Vegetable Compound, and I can say that it is the greatest medicine on earth, for this baby is now four months old, and a healthier baby you would not want. I am sending you a picture of her. Everybody says 'That is a very healthy looking baby.' You haven't consent to show these few lines to anybody."—Mrs. C. W. BENZ, 131 3rd Avenue, Altoona, Pa.

Mrs. Janssen's experience of interest to childless wives.

Millston, Wis.—"I want to give you a word of praise for your wonderful medicine. We are fond of children, and for a considerable time after we were married I feared I would never have a child. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it strengthened me so I now have a nice, strong, healthy baby girl. I suffered very little at childbirth, and I give all the credit to your medicine, and shall always recommend it highly."—Mrs. H. H. JANSSEN, Millston, Wis.

Mrs. Held of Marinette, Wis., adds her testimonial for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She says:

Marinette, Wis.—"I was in a nervous condition and very irregular. My doctor advised an operation. My husband brought me one of your booklets and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It overcame my weakness so that I now have a healthy baby girl after having been married nine years. I am glad to recommend your medicine, and you may use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. H. B. HELD, 330 Jefferson St., Marinette, Wis.

There are many, many such homes that were once childless, and are now blessed with healthy, happy children because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored the mother to a strong and healthy condition, as it acts as a natural restorative for ailments as indicated by backache, irregularities, displacements, weakness and nervousness.

Women everywhere should remember that most of the commoner ailments of women are not the surgical ones—they are not caused by serious displacements or growths, although the symptoms may be the same, and that is why so many apparently serious ailments readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it acts as a natural restorative. It can be taken with perfect safety and often prevents serious troubles.

Therefore if you know of any woman who is suffering and has been unable to secure relief and is regretfully looking forward to a childless old age, ask her to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it has brought health and happiness into so many homes once darkened by illness and despair.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

COMMERCE CHAMBER'S MEMBERS SHOW INTEREST IN PROGRESS OF IMPROVEMENT WORK

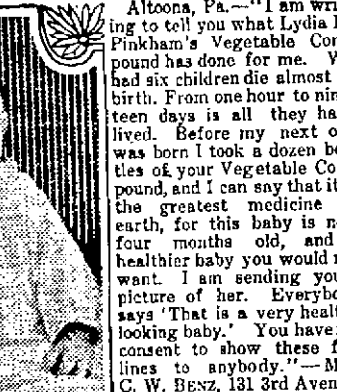

Construction of the new First street boulevard and the acquiring of an athletic oval was placed second in a list of civic improvements that it was considered desirable that the chamber of commerce should work to bring about in a consensus of opinion of the members of the organization as revealed in a referendum the first of this year. Interest has been displayed lately by members to know what is being done by the city toward building the street and acquiring the oval.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson stated today that the land for the oval could be bought for about $30,000, and that he believed the question of its purchase would be brought before the municipal council in the near future. He expressed the opinion that once the land had been acquired it would be possible to start a campaign in the fall that would result in raising sufficient funds from private individuals to build a stadium. He said that it was his idea that the stadium should be open to use of all of the people of the city with the single reservation that, if high school alumni should undertake the work of getting funds, the school athletes should have a first option on the use of the place.

The mayor said that he intends to take up immediately with Highway Commissioner John N. Cole the question of constructing that portion of old First street which is to be a part of the new boulevard. This section of highway, when completed, with the repairs now going on in old First street which is to be a part of the new boulevard, will give a reasonably satisfactory section of road to the city limits.

Under agreement with the state, the city is to do the work of grading and rough filling for the new boulevard, and the commonwealth will carry on the rest of the work of constructing the highway. The grading and filling work on a considerable section of the boulevard has been completed and is ready for the state to start work. The rest will be finished, it is expected, this fall.

When the state has finished its work on building the boulevard the city will construct a short temporary highway around a bay that makes in from the river. This will be discontinued when the place is filled in, and it is the opinion of Mayor Thompson that it would be for the advantage of the city to acquire the oval site and use some of the material from it in that work, having to be removed in improving the property for filling purposes.

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. We had six children die almost at birth. From one hour to nineteen days is all they have lived. Before my next one was born I took a dozen bottles of your Vegetable Compound, and I can say that it is the greatest medicine on earth, for this baby is now four months old, and a healthier baby you would not want. I am sending you a picture of her. Everybody says 'That is a very healthy looking baby.' You haven't consent to show these few lines to anybody."—Mrs. C. W. BENZ, 131 3rd Avenue, Altoona, Pa.

Millston, Wis.—"I want to give you a word of praise for your wonderful medicine. We are fond of children, and for a considerable time after we were married I feared I would never have a child. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it strengthened me so I now have a nice, strong, healthy baby girl. I suffered very little at childbirth, and I give all the credit to your medicine, and shall always recommend it highly."—Mrs. H. H. JANSSEN, Millston, Wis.

Mrs. Held of Marinette, Wis., adds her testimonial for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She says:

Marinette, Wis.—"I was in a nervous condition and very irregular. My doctor advised an operation. My husband brought me one of your booklets and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It overcame my weakness so that I now have a healthy baby girl after having been married nine years. I am glad to recommend your medicine, and you may use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. H. B. ## Adventures of The Twins

JACK FROST'S ERRAND

JACK FROST, BEING THIN, SQUEEZED OUT THROUGH THE CRACK

Sprinkle Blow took out a key and crack open the chestnut burr in the unlocked door of the Nuisance Fairies. Then he opened a tiny crack and peered in his nose. "Jack Frost," he called, "I want you. No, no one else is to come out, only Jack Frost." Jack Frost, being thin, squeezed out through the crack, and the Weatherman closed the door and locked it again.

Nancy and Nick shivered for the minute Jack appeared the air grew icy. Jack smiled for he hadn't forgotten that time in the Land-Where-Spring-Was-Coming, when the twins had gone in search of Mr. Sun and chased him (Jack) away.

"Jack!" said Mr. Sprinkle Blow. "there are a few times every year when you are decidedly useful. In the fall, when you are needed to make the grapes and pumpkins sweet and to

CHILDREN ENTERTAINED

Hundreds of Lowell children swarmed to R. F. Kelly's theatre late yesterday afternoon to enjoy the free entertainment staged by the Twentieth Century show store. For three-quarters of an hour the kiddies were made happy by the antics of "Buster Brown" and "Tide," characters famous in newspaper comics, and by a series of excellent motion pictures. Incidentally, here were men on hand to exhibit and explain the footwear sold by the 20th Century store.

Smoking in public places and the sale of cigarettes are barred in Utah.

Are You Human?

A little baby. A little child. Don't they appeal to you? Doesn't your heart yearn to pick them up, to cuddle them close to you, to shield them from all harm? sure it does else you're not human. Being human you love them. Their very helplessness makes you reach out in all your strength to aid them. In health there's no flower so beautiful. In illness there's no sight so black.

Save them then. Use every precaution. Take no chance.

When sickness comes, as sickness will, remember it's just a baby, just a child and if the Physician isn't at hand don't try some remedy that you may have around the house for your own use.

Fletcher's Castoria was made especially for babies' ills and you can use it with perfect safety as any doctor will tell you. Keep it in the house.

Do the People Know?

Do you know why you are asked to call for Fletcher's Castoria when you want a child's remedy? why you must insist on Fletcher's? For years we have been explaining how the popularity of Fletcher's Castoria has brought out innumerable imitations, substitutes and counterfeits.

To protect the babies; to shield the homes and in defense of generations to come we appeal to the better judgment of parents to insist on having Fletcher's Castoria when in need of a child's medicine. And remember above all things that a child's medicine is made for children—a medicine prepared for grown-ups is not interchangeable. A baby's food for a baby. And a baby's medicine is just as essential for the baby.

The Castoria Recipe (it's on every wrapper) has been prepared by the same hands in the same manner for so many years that the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and perfection in the product are synonymous.

Vermont Village Wiped Out by Fire

NEWPORT, Vt., June 8.—The village of East Charleston, 17 miles from this city, was in ruins today following a fire last night which wiped out the business section. Fifteen families were made homeless and a property loss of $75,000 was caused. Echo Inn, a summer hotel, was destroyed. The fire started in a blacksmith shop of Will Gray, and spread rapidly. In an attempt to check the flames dynamite was used, but the explosion sent embers flying to all parts of the village and many fresh fires started.

Mexico Will Not Sign Treaty With U. S.

MEXICO CITY, June 8.—(By the Associated Press).—Formal signature of a treaty between Mexico and the United States as a condition to recognition of the Obregon administration by Washington is impossible, says an official statement. The statement declares that a commercial treaty between the United States and Mexico is desirable but that the Mexican president does not possess the right to conclude a treaty of a political nature such as proposed by the United States in its recent memorandum to the Mexican government.

tinuance to a date to be fixed by counsel which he engaged.

Inman was driving the machine which struck and fatally injured Hugh McGrogan, local expressman, April 14.

The accident occurred on Green street, while McGrogan, a man of middle age, was standing close to his wagon. It is stated, Taken to St. John's hospital, the victim of the accident died within a few hours. Traffic Officer Maoney, in the meanwhile, had accompanied Inman to police headquarters, where after an investigation he was charged with violating the automobile laws on two counts. He was released in bonds of $400.

The following morning, when he appeared in the police court, an additional charge of manslaughter awaited him, as McGrogan's death had taken place during the night. He was bonded for a continuance, and departed. When his case was called later he failed to respond, and was declared a fugitive by the police.

A search by the police disclosed a trail leading to Littleton, N. H., and thence to Portland, Me., where Inman was taken into custody by the authorities there. Brought back to this city by Inspector McCann, he was booked on three charges, the manslaughter complaint having been upheld by Judge John J. Pickman, who at the inquest reported a finding of guilty of criminal negligence.

"You are charged with a serious offense," declared Judge Wright to the prisoner this morning when his case came before the court. "You have been found guilty of criminal negligence, and you should engage counsel and request a continuance." Inman acted on this advice of his Honor, and immediately secured an attorney.

Cases Continued Again

The cases of John T. and Herbert C. Lough, charged with attempted breaking and entering the camp of Jason H. Kingsbury at Tyngsboro, were today continued for a fourth time at the request of their counsel. Witnesses for the government were opposed to further delay, but the attorney for the defendant said he had just come into the case this morning. There will be a hearing June 15.

Asked by the court what he considered a fair valuation for the car, Chaput repeated the figure he first gave, $295, stating that he "didn't want to make it too high." Both defendants are under bonds.

Suspended Sentence

William J. Cahill, who pleaded guilty to neglect of his wife, received a suspended three months' sentence to the house of correction, and was ordered to pay $8 a week under penalty of execution of sentence. He agreed to do this.

For Improper Conduct

The case of Rose Warren, charged with improper conduct, and also with drunkenness, was continued to tomorrow at the request of the government, whose witnesses this morning were all at the federal court waiting a hearing at a game on the Lord's day, was held for the same date, as witnesses were the same, both defendants having been arrested at the same time and place.

Held in $1000

Arthur McGlinchey, charged with assault and battery, waived the reading of the complaint through counsel, pleaded not guilty, and asked for a continuance. This was granted, and bonds were fixed at $1000 for a hearing Saturday.

Dempsey Shows Kilbane "Swivel Swing"
With Which He Hopes to Land Knockout

BY JOHNNY KILBANE
Featherweight Champion
ATLANTIC CITY, June 8.—The "swivel swing."

Ever hear of it? It's what Champion Jack Dempsey is counting on to send Georges Carpentier back to France with his championship aspirations unfulfilled.

Jack, after we had finished sparring, posed with me to illustrate just what he meant. The program is this:

(1) The champion jabs with his left, to put Georges on the defensive and to pull his arms up to his head to block. Then—

(2) Dempsey shoots over a right to the heart, powerful despite the fact that it is started from his waist, and—

(3) Steps forward with the blow onto his left foot, uncocking as he does so a straight left to the chin as he moves up. This blow usually bears a knockout kick, for the heart blow has left the opponent shaken, dazed and winded.

It's Steam-driven

The "swivel swing" got its name in camp here. Members of Jack's training family used to kid the champ when he got his arms swinging for the one-two, telling him if he'd get a swivel chair he wouldn't have to use up so much of his steam. And the swivel swing it became. But it's steam-powered.

Dempsey realizes full well that the Frenchman is a faster man than any he ever has met, and he isn't promising anything definite as to what he's going to do. But there's one thing that the champ isn't at all hesitant about and that is that if the old "swivel swing" has a chance to get into action—well, the fans might as well go home, for there won't be anything else around the arena to look at.

Tough on Partners

The practice that Big Jack is giving himself on the "swivel" makes existence burdensome for his unfortunate sparring partners. The champ pulls his punches (as much as it is possible for any natural fighter to pull them), but even so, hardly a day passes but what someone in the Dempsey training family packs his grip and kisses the camp goodby, unwilling to stand the pummeling longer. Houck, Larry Jacobs, Joe Benjamin and all the crowd tell me that the big fellow is a terror in the ring. Patches over the eye and taps over other body parts are common decorations and Dempseyville. Most all the sparring partners wear them at one time or another.

"BOB" HART OFFICIATED
IN IMPORTANT GAMES

Eugene "Bob" Hart of this city, who is umpiring in the National league for the second consecutive season, is enjoying great success in his important work, and has just completed a winning in the great New York-Pittsburgh series, in which the leadership of the league changed twice.

In a letter to a friend on The Sun he states that the games between the Giants and Pirates had all the earmarks of a world's series clash, and that the smallest attendance at any of the four games was 20,000. At the Saturday game the crowd was the largest on record, with every available space on the grounds occupied.

Hart says the pennant race is one of the greatest on record and he adds that it would be wise to watch the Boston Braves. Give the Boston entry a few good pitchers and they would make any club in the league travel, says the genial and popular "Bob."

Hart also paid quite a tribute to George Washington Grant, owner of the Boston club. He stated that the club magnate had sent a season pass to the local Y.M.C.A. an organization of which Hart is a prominent member.

Bob is still in Pittsburgh, umpiring the Braves-Pirates games, and upon the completion of the series on Friday he will move to Cincinnati. He stated in his letter that the west has been in the grip of a hot wave for several weeks, and in Chicago and Cincinnati, many found it too hot to sleep.

"Bob" is now assembling data on the recent American Roller Polo league race, and wrote to The Sun in search of certain article. "Bob" played with the Lowell and Worcester polo clubs last season and had a very successful year.

DEMPSEY MAY RETIRE IF HE BEATS CARP

BY MAX BALTHASAR,
Fighting Expert

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 9.—If Jack Dempsey defeats Georges Carpentier at Jersey City on July 2, it will be his last appearance in the ring, unless he is made worth his while to meet Jess Willard on Labor Day.

If he is defeated by Carpentier he will seek a return match and, win or lose in the event that Carpentier consents to meet him a second time, he will quit the gloves forever.

The plans of the champion were couched in an intimate of years from the time he was prepared to be speaking in all sincerity.

"If I beat Carpentier," he asked, "who will there be left for me to fight? There is a possibility of meeting Willard on Labor Day, but that is uncertain."

"Therefore, barring a chance to meet Willard, there will be no ring work for me. I can't lead a life of idleness, and I must keep myself in shape for my title and seek employment in other lines."

"It is true that I will have sufficient money to keep me comfortably, but I must work. I cannot lead an idle life."

The motion pictures present many opportunities and there will be no difficulty in securing theatrical engagements."

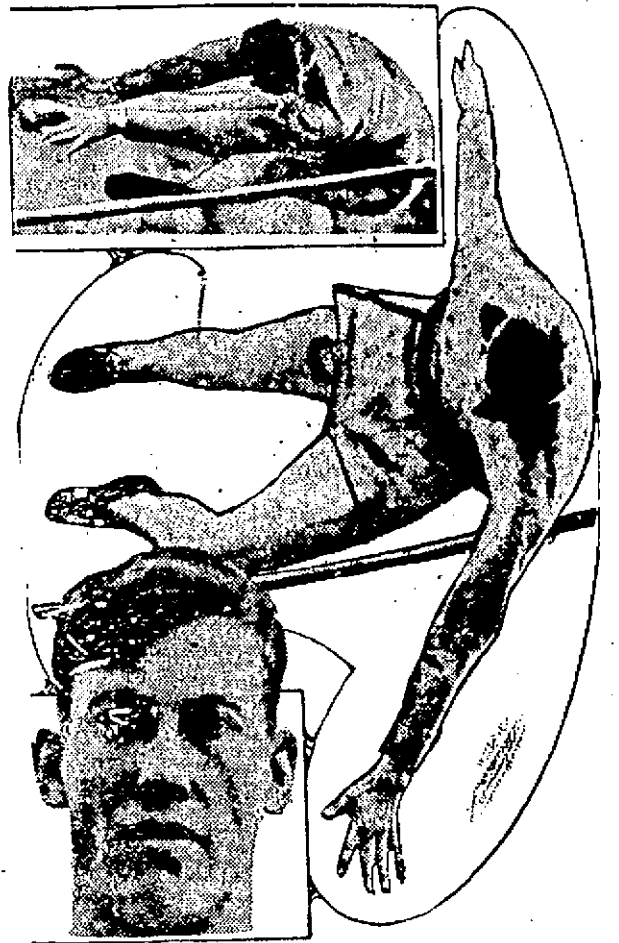

Dempsey will celebrate his twenty-sixth birthday on the 24th of this month, and a heavy weight at that age is barely at his peak. Dempsey realizes, therefore, he will be passing up six good fighting years.

Dempsey hopes to make a big cleanup in the forthcoming fight in anticipation of his retirement.

He is a fighter, and he made in the course of a fanning bee.

"If Carpentier and I think he is a fine fellow," the champion said, "but I wish he would get out more where the public could see him."

He may have his very good reasons for wanting only the amateur ring for a time, and then only for an hour three times a week, but it would help matters greatly if he would let down the bars. You know we are fighting on the bars. You know Dempsey, despite the task before him, is always of good cheer. He fairly bubbles over when a friend of the early days comes to visit him.

'Barrel Roller' Alberts
Sets Up Jump Records

DEWEY V. ALBERTS AND TWO VIEWS OF HIS "BARREL ROLL."

By Newspaper Enterprise

URBANA, Ill., June 9.—Dewey V. Alberts, lanky skydiver of the University of Illinois, executes an almost perfect "barrel roll" in high jumping.

His feet clear the bar first, then he eases his body over horizontally, giving himself a roll like a barrel.

He has won seven out of eight meets he has competed in this year.

His one defeat came on June 4 in the western conference meet at Chicago when he fell below all his former marks. Johnny Murphy of Notre Dame winning with a leap of 6 feet 2 1/2 inches. Alberts tied for second.

Alberts' best jump this spring was his "roll" of 5 feet 3 1/2 inches, made in the Illinois-Wisconsin meet. This comes within 2 1/2 inches of the world's high jump record.

This is his last year at the university. He has joined the Chicago Athletic club and will compete with the Cherry circle on graduation.

Students at Lincoln college, where he was a student before entering Illinois, credit Alberts with attaining his present skill to his daily stunt of leaping over the upright piano at the college chapel.

His jump of 6 feet 3 1/2 inches broke the eastern, western and national collegiate records.

Alberts' record string of victories in meets this season are:

Feb. 16—At South Bend, Illinois vs. Notre Dame, first, 5 ft. 3 1/2 in.

March 5—At Urbana, Illinois relay carnival, the first, 6 ft. 3 in.

March 10—At Evansston, Ill. Ten conference, first, 6 ft. 4 in.

April 30—At Philadelphia, Penn. games, the first, 6 ft. 2 1/2 in.

May 7—At South Bend, Illinois vs. Notre Dame, first, 6 ft. 2 1/2 in.

May 14—At Urbana, Illinois vs. Michigan, first, 6 ft. 3 in.

May 20—At Urbana, Illinois vs. Wisconsin, first, 6 ft. 3 1/2 in.

No records approaching Alberts' figures have been made this year with the consistency he has shown.

Just a Little Longer
(As the English See It)
by Berton Braley

Oh, the Yanks they crossed the ocean with a rather silly notion That they'd take the golfing cup across the foam; So we welcomed them politely, and we entertained them rightily, And we did our best to make them feel at home.

Then we hustled up our forces and we played them round the courses. And the Yanks performed in highly clever style; But necessity demanded that they go home clever-handed, For we thought we'd better keep the cup at home.

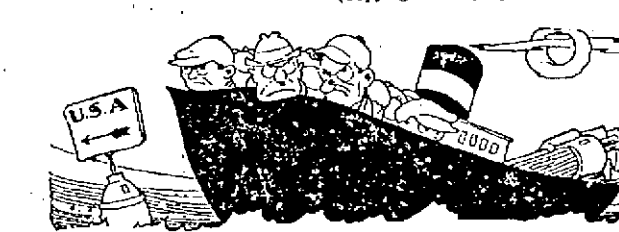

It's a little sort of trick, and you really couldn't think it. Was the kind of cup to trouble much about; Still, it has a valuation as a clubhouse decoration. And we rather hate to see it taken out.

So we faced the Yank invasion, as befitted the occasion. With a handshake and a welcome and a smile; We were truly glad to meet them, but it seemed we had to beat them.

If we wished to keep the cup a little while. Well, we won, the score disclosed; and the trophy still reposes Where our eyes may fall upon it, now and then; And we don't intend to shift it—though the Yankers hope to lift it.

When the Yanks come around to play with us again. They are golfers skilled and clever, they are bully sportsmen even; And they're welcome to our foggy little Isle. But the cup, the cup they covet—well, we're rather jealous of it— And, in fact, we plan to keep it quite awhile.

LOWELL HIGH SCHOOL
DEFEATS NASHUA

Lowell high defeated Nashua high, 10 to 7, in Nashua yesterday afternoon. The game was on the mound for Lowell and pitched consistently good ball with the exception of one or two innings when his support was faulty. The contest was an up and down affair, providing all kinds of baseball good, bad and indifferent. Lowell high got away to a 4-0 lead in the first inning. But Nashua's game back strong at once with three runs in the fifth inning, however, Lowell took the lead again and was never headed thereafter.

Lowell will play her last game of the season at Spaulding park tomorrow afternoon when she will line up against Lawrence high in the third and deciding game of the 1921 series between these two teams.

"LANKY BOB" LOST TITLE
TO JEFFRIES IN 1899

Only a little more than two years were given to Bob Fitzsimmons which to enjoy the glamor and gold that accompany a heavyweight championship. The honor was knocked from his sturdy shoulders by James J. Jeffries on June 9, 1899 at Coney Island.

Jeffries had graduated from a boxing establishment into the roped square with a rugged fight that rounded Fitzsimmons into submission in 11 rounds, and which enabled the new champion to stick at the head of the fistie procession for many years.

The challenger of Fitzsimmons came from California, and was expected to sail into the champion with the zest and abandon that considered a universal attribute of newcomers. But Jeffries moved cautiously in the ring until his foe was aroused, whereupon he would create a thunderbolt with one of his 3 1/2 fists.

The first of these titanic wallops was answered by the Californian in the second round. It landed upon Fitzsimmons' jaw and Fitzsimmons landed on the floor. He was up and doing in a dizzy, however, and landed his whirlwind attack. The Californian was the bigger man and accepted all the punishment that the champion could inflict.

Fitzsimmons became weary from his incessant, though ineffective, efforts and in the 16th round Jeffries knocked him to the floor twice. In the next round the Californian landed a zipping drive over the champion's heart and followed it through with rights and lefts to the jaw. These blows sent Fitzsimmons and Jeffries went down for the full count with a crashing right hand blow to the chin.

Broadways and C.M.A.C. Play to Tie "BABE" GETS OUT IN TIME TO PLAY THREE INNINGS

What was easily the most exciting game of the Twilight League season to date was that played by the Broadways and C.M.A.C. to a 6-6 tie score on the South common last evening. The game was a see-saw affair, with one team scoring one run and then the other, in the first of the seventh the C.M.A.C. had a lead of one run, but the Broadways succeeded in evening matters in their half. With two men out, the game was called because of darkness and many of the spectators thought the score would revert to the last of the sixth, thus giving the C.M.A.C. a victory.

However, Rule 21 of the baseball guide says that if the side second at bat is at bat when the game is terminated and has scored as many runs as the other team, the game shall be declared a draw, even though the inning is not completed. This applies directly to last evening's game and authorizes the tie score.

It was a great game to watch and the half-raising finish provided the fans with one of the greatest thrills they have experienced this season. Hubert was on the mound for the C.M.A.C. and Muno for the Broadways. Each twirler had plenty of good stuff in his arm and was vigorously in letting loose upon opposing batters.

The Broadways got away in two-run lead in the first inning when Gath walked, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and came home on Farrell's hit to right. Desmond, the leading batter of the league, smashed one into the right field crowd and Connors smashed a beauty to centre, scoring Farrell.

Everything was serene until the third when the C.M.A.C. tied the score on McGowan's hit to right, a series of errors and a drive to left by Cordingley. There was nothing doing in the fourth but in the fifth the Broadways got three more and the fans were sure they had won the game. But they were away off for the C.M.A.C. came back strong with four runs in the sixth. Finally came the half-raising climax just as the fans were about to leave the common when the Broadways sent across the run that tied. It was a great old game both from the playing and the building viewpoint. Two double plays pulled off by the Broadways gave an inkling of the speed that was displayed in the field.

"BABE" GETS OUT IN TIME TO PLAY THREE INNINGS

NEW YORK, June 9.—It takes more than a fall sentence to keep Babe Ruth from playing ball at the Polo grounds.

He served six hours—a technical day—in the traffic court "pen" yesterday, made a wild dash out to the field and played three innings of a winning game against Cleveland.

After paying his $100 fine for hitting the high spots on Riverside Drive about a week ago, he began serving one day "in confinement" because this was his second offense. If the master of a newspaperman's taxi which followed him to the park could be depended upon, Babe violated the soft-same speed law before he had been out 10 minutes. He covered the nine miles to the Polo grounds in about 15 minutes.

At 4 o'clock, the time for his release, approached, the same tormented roadster that twice led to his arrest awaited him outside the court. He sped away from a cheering crowd of fans and newspaper photographers, with a policeman on the running board to clear the way and Magistrate McFadden seated beside him to see that he wouldn't be "pinched" again.

He had part of his uniform under his clothing and changed in time to swing a bat in the sixth inning. The crowd in the stands did not recognize him at first. There was a pause, then the crowd rose to their feet and welcomed him aporously.

He walked to first, stole second, was not arrested, and made third on the second out. Baker, who then came to bat, retired the side.

He got one more chance in the eighth, but was out after a weak throw to second. He did not have any other chance to shine, but the side did not care, when the Yankees rallied at the end of the ninth and put over two winning runs.

Chester Williams is the proudest colored youth in the city, due to Babe's arrest, for he has the distinction of being the only man who served a sentence in the city pen with the hitting champion. Chester said Babe hit him during the day, held a gloomy face "a mile long" and refused even to join in a dice game in a corner.

"I'll never get caught speeding again in this town," Chester said. Ruth remarked sadly, "but when I get out of here I am going to buy a new car. Keeping a man here this way all day just makes a speeder of him."

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., June 9.—State policemen and special officers sent to War Eagle, Mingo county, to arrest Johnny and Buffalo Cline as armuniton runners, returned to Williamson without the men, after they were fired upon from the Cline house, according to reports at state police headquarters today.

The troopers said the Clines had assembled a number of their friends and before they could approach the house were fired at from all sides. Outnumbered they returned to the county seat.

The county jail here, built to accommodate 20 prisoners, now holds 43 men, charged with violating the prohibition of martial law recently imposed in Mingo because of disorders in the coal fields.

"I stand by all I said, every word of it. I shan't repudiate a single word I said, and I see nothing un-American in it, even if Senator McCormick does."

A cablegram had been sent by Secretary of the Navy Denby, asking him if he was correctly quoted in reports of the speech.

The admiral arranged to have the secretary's message delivered to him as soon as it reached London.

In the speech, which was given a prominent place on front pages of London newspapers, the admiral said in reference to a certain type of Irish sympathizers in the United States: "They are like zebras—either black horses with white stripes or white horses with black stripes. But we know they are not horses—they are asses. Each of these asses, however, has a vote and there are lots of them."

He declared that the persons he assailed were Americans "when they want money, but Sinn Feiners when on the platform" and added, "They are making war on America today."

Admiral Sims was a guest at a luncheon given by American naval officers here today and this afternoon was to attend a tea at the house of commons. He will be present at a dinner given by the Queenstown association here tonight.

GETS UP MORNINGS FRESH AS LARK NOW

May Call Sims Home
WASHINGTON, June 9.—Rear-Admiral William S. Sims was ordered today to inform the navy department by cable at once whether or not he was correctly quoted in the press accounts of the speech on the Irish question delivered by him Tuesday in London at a luncheon of the English Speaking union.

The order sent by Secretary of the Navy Denby was made public last night by the navy department and is regarded as preliminary to ordering the admiral home to meet such disciplinary measures as may be decided upon. The message sent by this secretary of the navy was:

tary of the navy is exceptionally curt. Here is Secretary Denby's cablegram: "I have read with amazement certain extracts from a speech purported to have been made by you in addressing the English Speaking union at a luncheon in London, June 7, as follows:

"I do not want to touch on the Irish question, for I know nothing about it. But there are many in our country who technically are Americans, some of them naturalized and some born there, but none of them Americans at all. They are Americans when they want money, but Sinn Feiners when on the platform. They are making war on America today. The simple truth of it is, that they have the blood of British and American boys on their hands for the obstructions they have placed in the way of the most effective operation of the allied naval forces during the war. They are like zebras, either black horses with white stripes, or white horses with black stripes. But we know they are not horses—they are asses. But each of these asses has a vote, and there are lots of them."

"You are quoted as having advised the British to ignore any resolution forced by these jackasses' votes."

"The Irish question is partly an American question. Eleven years ago I made a prophecy that came true. I will venture to make another now. The English-speaking people are coming together in the hands of comradeship, and they are going to run this round globe. I should like to see an inter-English-speaking policy, and when we have that, we shall have peace and prosperity."

"You will inform the department immediately by cable whether or not you were correctly quoted and made such statements at the time and place in question." (Signed)

"EDWIN DENBY."

Order, Not Request
Secretary Denby refused to say in advance what course would be pursued in the event if the correctness of the report of the admiral's speech is sustained but intimated plainly that some action is contemplated.

The secretary's message does not "ask" for corroboration but peremptorily says: "You will inform the department immediately," etc.

While Admiral Sims has been the stormy petrel of the navy department for many years, probably no utterance ever made by him has started up such a hornet's nest as this latest reported insurrection.

Some senators stormed over it while the state department, as well as the navy department, was plainly disturbed.

Advocates of the Irish cause, including Senators Norris, Nebraska, and J. Follette, expressed indignation, and Senator La Follette said he might have something later to say on the floor.

Admiral Sims, however, has many powerful friends in the senate who are quite likely to take up the cudgels in his behalf. Likewise, Ambassador Harvey, powerful with the president, is an ardent admirer of Admiral Sims, and in a recent speech in London compared the admiral to George Washington.

Protests From Boston
BOSTON, June 7.—A telegram requesting Secretary of the Navy Denby to make Admiral Sims either prove his references to the Irish race in his speech before the English-Speaking union, or publicly apologize, was sent last night by Matthew Cummings, president of the Friends of Irish Freedom, of Greater Boston.

Mr. Cummings said that Admiral Sims "has done this so often that it is time his superior officers in Washington asserted themselves and put an end to his uncalculated and untruthful statements."

At a meeting of the district chairman of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic in charge of the membership and congressional petition drives held at state headquarters, American House, yesterday afternoon, State President John F. Harrigan bitterly criticized the recent speech of Admiral Sims. He stated "that it is, indeed, unfortunate that Admiral Sims is permitted to appear in public in England, apparently enjoying American sentiment and opinion."

Mr. Harrigan denounced Admiral Sims and "men of his type who as all men of Irish blood in America." He called attention to the fact that Sims admits that he knows nothing about the Irish question, and said that "he appears equally ignorant of American ideals and traditions and of the fact that men and women of Irish blood, not only naturalized and American born citizens, but thousands who were not citizens have proved their loyalty to these United States with sacrifices, suffering and even death too often to permit sycophants and hypocrites to charge them with disloyalty, the only justification of which seems to be that we denounce English brutality and condemn any man who dares to claim that real Americans will even permit the suggestion that bloody and treacherous England is an ally of this nation which is the land of liberty and the enemy to oppression."

So Weak Was Going to Leave Job—Says Gland Pills Quickly Restored His Health and Strength.

"After being so weak and rundown that I was about to throw up my job, today thanks to Glandex Compound, my health has been restored, my strength has increased wonderfully, and I'm feeling just great," said Royal G. Harris, of 1 Salem street, Worcester, Mass., who is a veteran of many of the important engagements in the World War, and who is a well-known member of the American Legion.

"My ill health started with a cold that I couldn't get rid of. I had to work 13 hours every night, seven nights a week, in a boiler room pit, and before I knew it I was completely all in. I lost all my vitality and ambition. Everything seemed to go wrong and life sure did look pretty empty."

But just as soon as I started taking this Glandex I could feel a big improvement in me. It just built me right up. My cough has left me, I'm never troubled with indigestion any more, and my strength has increased so that I don't mind hard work a bit now. Glandex certainly is a great tonic for building people up and I never get tired of boosting it to others.

Amazing Results Everywhere
The reason Glandex brings such amazing results in so many cases is because it helps you build up run-down glands—which science now says are the cause of many run-down human glands. Glandex feeds run-down human glands with extracts taken from the glands of vigorous sheep and cattle. Practically on the same principle as re-charging a storage battery! Also contains iron and other well-known health builders.

If weak, pale, thin or generally run-down, try this remarkable tonic. Brings results or your money back. Has helped thousands to regain health and strength. Try a bottle! Sold at good druggists everywhere.—Ady.

"Tanlac has made me well and happy and that is everything I could have asked," said Mrs. Marie Mandeville of 231 Engle street, Fall River, recently. "I certainly know what bad health means. I suffered for seven years. I had stomach trouble so bad that I couldn't enjoy a thing I ate for thinking of the awful distress I knew it would bring on. My nerves were so unstrung I couldn't even stand the ticking of a clock and I became so weak that the housework was a drag. I dreaded to see night come for I would roll and toss, scarcely able to get any sleep at all. I fell off in weight and felt so discouraged all the time I didn't take any interest in anything."

"I never will forget how surprised I was when I saw Tanlac was helping me. Why, I could just feel it to my finger tips and I kept improving until now I am in just perfect health. My appetite is excellent and I have gained weight and been built up wonderfully. My nerves are as steady as can be and I sleep so soundly that of mornings I get up feeling just fine. I certainly am grateful to be so well and strong once more and I can't say too much in praise of Tanlac."

navy department, was plainly disturbed. Senator McCormick, who defends Admiral Sims in his controversy with former Secretary of the Navy Daniels, was one of the first to take action on the admiral's latest speech. He immediately visited the White House and the navy department, demanding that cognizance be taken of what he termed "grossly improper remarks. Senator McCormick did not see the president, but left a message to this effect with George B. Chauncey, the president's secretary, to be conveyed to the president. He called personally on Secretary Denby.

Denby's "Own Party"
In giving out the copy of his cablegram to Admiral Sims, Secretary Denby said representations made by Senator McCormick had nothing to do with his action. "This is my own party," was his comment.

The senatorial attitude towards Admiral Sims' speech was expressed forcibly by Senator McCormick.

McCormick said, "for a naval officer abroad to asperse the loyalty of a great number of his fellow citizens, Admiral Sims not by implication, but by his own direct statements charges that not a handful but multitudes of his fellow citizens are actuated, first, not by devotion to America, but to the cause of some other people. Thank God, we know that it is not true. We know that all Americans of whatever blood, above all are American, although they cherish sentiments for the land of their origin—England in the case of some, like Admiral Sims, Ireland or some other land in the case of others."

"I do not become any American to go abroad to pass public strictures on his fellow citizens. I am disgusted that an American naval officer with the splendid record of Admiral Sims, at the end of his active service, should deliver such a speech."

Advocates of the Irish cause, including Senators Norris, Nebraska, and J. Follette, expressed indignation, and Senator La Follette said he might have something later to say on the floor.

Admiral Sims, however, has many powerful friends in the senate who are quite likely to take up the cudgels in his behalf. Likewise, Ambassador Harvey, powerful with the president, is an ardent admirer of Admiral Sims, and in a recent speech in London compared the admiral to George Washington.

Protests From Boston
BOSTON, June 7.—A telegram requesting Secretary of the Navy Denby to make Admiral Sims either prove his references to the Irish race in his speech before the English-Speaking union, or publicly apologize, was sent last night by Matthew Cummings, president of the Friends of Irish Freedom, of Greater Boston.

Mr. Cummings said that Admiral Sims "has done this so often that it is time his superior officers in Washington asserted themselves and put an end to his uncalculated and untruthful statements."

At a meeting of the district chairman of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic in charge of the membership and congressional petition drives held at state headquarters, American House, yesterday afternoon, State President John F. Harrigan bitterly criticized the recent speech of Admiral Sims. He stated "that it is, indeed, unfortunate that Admiral Sims is permitted to appear in public in England, apparently enjoying American sentiment and opinion."

Mr. Harrigan denounced Admiral Sims and "men of his type who as all men of Irish blood in America." He called attention to the fact that Sims admits that he knows nothing about the Irish question, and said that "he appears equally ignorant of American ideals and traditions and of the fact that men and women of Irish blood, not only naturalized and American born citizens, but thousands who were not citizens have proved their loyalty to these United States with sacrifices, suffering and even death too often to permit sycophants and hypocrites to charge them with disloyalty, the only justification of which seems to be that we denounce English brutality and condemn any man who dares to claim that real Americans will even permit the suggestion that bloody and treacherous England is an ally of this nation which is the land of liberty and the enemy to oppression."

POLES ROUTED BY AT MT. HOLYOKE COLLEGE BRITISH FORCES

5000 Insurgents Driven Out
of City of Rosenberg,
Northeast of Oppeln

British Took Possession of
City Without Firing a Shot
—Given Ovation

OPPELN, June 8.—(By the Associated Press)—Five thousand Polish insurgents have been driven out of the city of Rosenberg, northeast of this city, by British forces. Last night the Poles were retreating in a southeasterly direction and many had passed the city of Lubantz, about 10 miles from Rosenberg.

The British did not fire a shot in taking possession of Rosenberg. The Poles dropped a few poorly aimed shells behind them and let go a scattering of rifle shots. They then picked up their machine guns, which had been set up in a road, and fled. When the British marched further into the city they found a Polish commander, with 300 men. He was directed to leave the city within an hour. He said this was impossible and he was warned that every insurgent found in Rosenberg at the expiration of an hour would be held for examination. A search of the city later in the evening showed that all the insurgents had departed on time.

The people of Rosenberg gave the British an ovation, girls trying to kiss the soldiers, and old women weeping. There was no attempt on the part of the British to disarm the Poles, a British colonel saying: "We are trying to avoid a civil war and are attempting to re-establish allied authority without bloodshed."

DEATHS

COOKIN—Miss Marietta Cookin, an elderly young woman of this city, died yesterday at St. John's hospital, after a brief illness. She leaves one sister, Mrs. Daniel H. Walker, and a brother, John H. Cookin. The body was removed to the home of her sister, Mrs. Daniel H. Walker, 144 Hawks st. by Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

COTE—Virginia, aged 3 days, infant daughter of Louis and Agnes Cote, died last night at the home of her parents, 30 Apple street. Burial took place this morning at 11 o'clock in St. Joseph's cemetery, under the direction of Undertakers America Archambault Sons.

DEMONS—Mrs. Alfred Demers, nee Marie Louise Marchand, aged 73 years, died this morning at her home, 158 Salem street. She leaves her husband, five sons, Eugene, of Sherbrooke, Que., Achille, Emile, Antonio and Napoleon, all of this city; two daughters, Mrs. Marie Louise Mainville of this city and Miss Elton Demers of Canada. People From All Walks of
J. Lynch

The funeral of Michael J. Lynch, for more than a quarter of a century head custodian of the Lowell high school, who died Monday as the result of an accident, was held this morning and was attended by representatives of practically every municipal department together with hundreds of others from various walks of life. The funeral took place at 9 o'clock from the late home, 10 Orford street, and at 10 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem was sung at St. Columba's church. The celebrant was Rev. John A. Degan, former pastor of St. Columba's, but now of St. Mary's Star-of-the-Sea church in Beverly. He was assisted by Rev. Thomas F. Buckley, formerly of St. Columba's church, but now of St. Vincent's church, South Boston, as deacon, and Rev. Francis M. Somers of St. Columba's church as sub-deacon.

Present in the sanctuary were Rev. Thomas McManmon of St. Margaret's church, Dorchester; Rev. Thomas P. Heaney of St. John's church, North Chelmsford; and Rev. James T. Mc Dermott, O.M.I., of the Sacred Heart church, Rev. Percival J. Quill was master of ceremonies.

The bearers were John M. Hogan, Henry L. Williams, John Donlon, Chas. McLaughlin, James J. Gallagher, Chas. Thornton, John Moran and Thomas Murphy. The ushers were the following officers of the Lowell high school: Col. Wm. A. Thompson, Maj. John J. Sullivan, Maj. Arthur J. Riley and Capt. Wm. H. McCallan.

Among the officials present were Mayor Perry D. Thompson, Chairman Thomas B. Delaney and the other members of the school committee, Hugh J. Melley, superintendent of schools; Purchasing Agent Edward H. Boyan; many others. The church was crowded to the doors during the mass and many stood in the corridor in the rear.

The musical program was under the direction of Miss Catherine Wholey, director of St. Columba's choir, who presided at the organ. At the offertory Miss Frances Tighe sang the "O Jesus" and after the elevation the "Merrill's Passions" was sung by Mr. Fred Cummings. Commissioner James D. Connelly sustained the solo in the "De Profundis."

The entire faculty of the Lowell high school attended the services in a body headed by Henry H. Harris, headmaster. Both the day and evening high schools were represented. There were also representatives from the various elementary schools of the city.

The Lowell janitors' association was represented by President Thomas J. Quinn, Timothy H. Nolan, vice president; William Nyack, John Barrett, Thomas F. Hannan and Thomas M. Keegan.

As the funeral cortege came down Merrimack street, near Kirk street, the employees of the construction firm working on the new high school building where Mr. Lynch met his death stood with heads uncovered.

There were many beautiful floral offerings, a large black-draped truck being filled with expressions of sorrow from friends and relatives of the deceased. Burial was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery where the committal services were conducted by Rev. Fr. Degan, assisted by Rev. Fr. Buckley, Rev. Fr. Heaney, Rev. Fr. McManmon and Rev. Fr. Somers. The funeral arrangements were in charge of William F. Thornton under the general direction of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

Out of respect to Mr. Lynch's memory, the regular session at the high school was suspended today and the school department offices in city hall were closed during the funeral. The flag on the high school building was at half mast.

IS KNOWN UNDER THREE SEPARATE ALIASES

Owen McAleer, recently held in bonds of $3000 for the grand jury by Judge Enright in the police court, on charges of robbing Lyndon Failing and breaking and entering the Paris Lunch, is known to the state authorities under three separate aliases, it was learned today by the police. McAleer is also an ex-convict, according to the state report, having been committed to the Massachusetts reformatory for five years, June 10, 1913, on charges of breaking and entering. He was "sent up" from the Suffolk superior court, and was paroled June 14, 1920. His stock of pseudonyms include Joseph Meriden, Joseph Merdin and Joseph Meredith.

Samuel C. Campbell, also implicated in the Paris Lunch and Failing robbery affairs, and held with McAleer for the grand jury, also sports a record, having been sent from the Middlesex county superior court to the Massachusetts reformatory for five years on charges of breaking and entering, Sept. 9, 1912. He was paroled Oct. 16, 1913, returned for violation of his permit Dec. 23, 1915, again paroled March 11, 1916, and again returned Nov. 18, 1916. He was finally released May 15, 1917.

RENEWING OLD ACQUAINTANCES

Joseph Larouche, a former resident of this city and now of Los Angeles, Cal., is renewing acquaintances in Lowell. The young man, who is a veteran of the world war, left this city about three years ago and went west, settling at Los Angeles, about 300 miles north of Los Angeles, and went to work as a mechanic in an automobile repair shop. Now he is the proprietor of a large garage and reports business is very good. Mr. Larouche will leave next Monday on his homeward journey, and proposes to stop a few days at Baltimore and Washington, D.C., en route.

INCREASE IN RENTS AND FAMILIES

Lowell landlords will hereafter have no legal right to increase the rent of their tenants because of an increase in a tenant's family, according to Chapter 452 of the Acts of 1921, a copy of which has just reached the office of the city collector.

This chapter makes "unenforceable" a previous enactment which authorized stipulations in leases for a raise in rent because of an increase in a tenant's family.
